Setting goals

I Love H.P.: The bumpers of many cars all over the Park Cities express the sentiments of Highland Park students.

establishing priorities

Highland Park students set various goals for themselves during the year. Some of these, such as winning a game or passing a test, were short term goals. Others were more complex and applied to long term achievements. Reaching a goal enabled the student not only to feel proud of his accomplishment, but also to reach toward a higher level of achievement. Although not always attainable, these ideals led students to work to the best of their ability, and thus played an important role in their lives.

Earnest actors: David Glass, Scot Sigler, Dina Jones, Constance Adams, Jeff Blain, and Sutton Stephens rehearse for the Senior Play.

Pound 'em in the dirt, Scots: Varsity cheerleader Craig Bailey fires up students at the Mesquite pep rally.

Aiming higher

Distinguished sportsman: Highland Park sophomore Jack Allinson practices for his Saturday morning polo match.

The great muppet caper: Melinda Means gets ready for a puppet show presented for children by her church youth group.

World Series pitcher: Phillip Worthen releases the ball in perfect form at the student-faculty softball game.

HP Scots Enjoy Fun Filled Summer

With the close of the '80-81 school year, HP students took off 2½ months for vacation, camp work and more school.

Several HP students attended the summer session at Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass. These included Todd Foster, Ann Coleman, Erin Alexander, Ashley Gunter, Elise Pettinger, and Will Pettinger. Hill Collins went to Culver Military Academy while Beryl Wadsworth participated in botany classes in Aspen, Colorado.

Others chose to bear the rain and heat working in Dallas. Jeff Hamlin did construction work while Kelley Hill held a job at a nearby sports shop. Lendy Leggett and Christie Coker spent their summer working at an HP gift shop. John Hamlin bussed tables at a Dallas hotel while Tricia Bell, Sherri Todd, Katherine Schooler and Kelly York worked at a local tea room. Freshman Michael Jackson spent time working at Plaza of the Americas. A common occupation for many students was mowing lawns.

Summer jobs outside the Dallas area and Texas also attracted many kids. John Vandermeer was a counselor at a camp while Gina Gaberino was a life guard. Connie Shannon, Laura Baldwin, and Lane Wooldridge, were wranglers at Sky Ranch and Jennifer Simmons held the same type job in Colorado.

Vacations also attracted many students and their families. Traveling to the beach were Brian Davis, to Hawaii, Gigi Olmsted to Galveston and Robyn Plumlee to Acapulco. Matt Johnston vacationed in Africa and in the Mobi Desert and he enjoyed collecting flowers to freeze them in a scrap book. Vicki Guisinger travelled in England, Greece, and France. Kathy Rott travelled with Campus Crusade to Colorado while Beth Moore and Margaret Shelmire took a Young Life wilderness trip in Canada. Young Life Camp Windy Gap also called many HP students. Several horsemen travelled through the U.S. participating in horse shows including Melissa Woodard and Ann Marie Cowdrey.

Camp was also a main attraction during the summer months. Cindy Kelton and Gayden Beard went to Camp Mystic for five weeks while Kamp Kanakomo attracted Juniors Amy Fleck and Cynthia Love.

There were those HP students who stayed in Dallas who played frisbee and visited the SMU pool and just took it easy until school bells rang in August.

Ready to go?: Patrick Jordan has second thoughts about parasailing on a Destin, Florida Beach.

S-C-O-T-S! John Hall enthusiastically leads a Scot yell, while the rest of the cheerleaders lend their support.

Flyin' high: Kathy Rott and Marsa Munroe try their skill at flying a kite on the beach at Padre Island.

Welcome to H.P.: Jeanne Verster from South Africa, enjoys an AFS welcoming party in her honor given by Carolyn Brown.

AFS students adjust to life in the USA

Two AFS students from faraway lands, Jeanne Verster and Naoya Mitake, joined HPHS this year. Both say they decided to come to the United States "for the experience."

Jeanne, from Durban, South Africa, was graduated from high school in January 1981. She was a senior at HPHS and lived with junior Carolyn Brown and her family, saying that they got along well.

Jeanne Participated in AFS, Hi-Lites, Round Table, and was on the senior play crew. She also spent many early morning and afternoon hours working out on the HP Swim Team. She played field hockey and swam at her high school in South Africa.

Jeanne said that she "likes people" and plans to go into diplomatic relations. She found school here easier than at home. Jeanne enjoyed the AFS trips which the international students took to Panderas Canyon and to San Antonio.

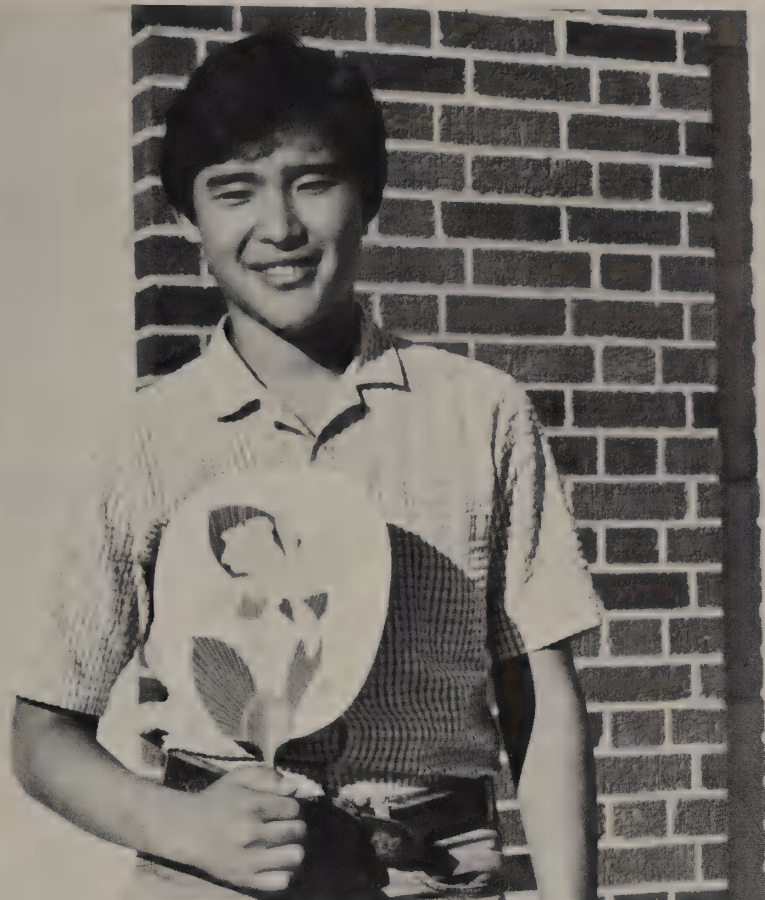

Although Jeanne often missed home, she said that as long as she kept busy the sadness wasn't bad. Her favorite classes were American History and French.

Naoya, from Yokohana, Japan, was classified as a senior even though he was only 16 years old. He said that he found many differences between the U.S. and Japan.

He enjoyed experiencing things here that they do not have in Japan. Among them was typing class which was his favorite because he understood it the best.

Naoya was very active in AFS, helping at all meetings. He too went to Amarillo and San Antonio and had a great time.

Although Naoya did not get very homesick, he did say that he missed his Japanese newspapers and Japanese food. Naoya also visited Los Angeles for a few days before coming to Dallas.

Sayonara: AFS student Naoya Mitake, from Yokohana, Japan, displays a traditional Japanese fan.

Welcome to the States: Highland Park welcomes AFS students Jeanne Verster and Naoya Mitake.

Clubs, activities begin in September

The month of September began with Howdy Week, August 31-September 4. Howdy Week included the annual Howdy Dance, the friendliest boy and girl of each grade, and the Super Scot spies.

The friendliest freshmen were Jenny Bernet and Stephen White. Frances Blackwell and Gig Reeves were elected friendliest sophomores. The friendliest juniors were Margaret Shelmire and Dave Reichert, while the votes for friendliest seniors went to Michelle Aldridge and Brad Weir.

The Super Scot spies were freshmen Stephanie Holmes and Stewart Campbell, sophomores Melinda Marshall and John Cain, juniors Pam Bennett and Milledge Hart, and seniors Sari Candas and Shane Read.

Drama teacher, Linda Raya, was named HPISD's Teacher of the Year. A tea honored Mrs. Raya on Friday, September 11.

The Lads and Lassies choir sold gift wrapping paper on September 26 and October 3 in the Highland Park Village to raise money.

The annual Open House was held on September 16. It gave parents a chance to meet the teachers and tour the high school. College Night was held September 30 with over one hundred schools attending. This gave Scots a chance to find out more about the colleges of their interest.

In September, seniors Constance Adams, Janay Ferguson, Stacy Jordan,

Jim Kasischke, Parnell McCarter, Holly McGuire, and Eddie Tatum were announced as National Merit Semi-Finalists. Seniors Bill Davis, Amy Duncan, Tom Ellis, David Frase, Mary Huck, Jim Jud, Marsa Munroe, Karen Neal, Karl Rathjen, Erica Scholder, Ken Shouse, Cesar Statsny, Scott Stockwell, and Maureen Sweeney were named national Merit Commendees.

The Scot varsity, football team started the 1981 season with a victory over MacArthur on September 4.

Seniors Michelle Aldridge, Becky Brooks, Reagan Fairchild, Katie Hutchison, Stephanie Jones, and Claire Squibb were announced as 1981 Homecoming Queen nominees.

Tell it like it is: Senior counselor Mrs. Betty Guest, tells seniors and their parents all the details about the upcoming year.

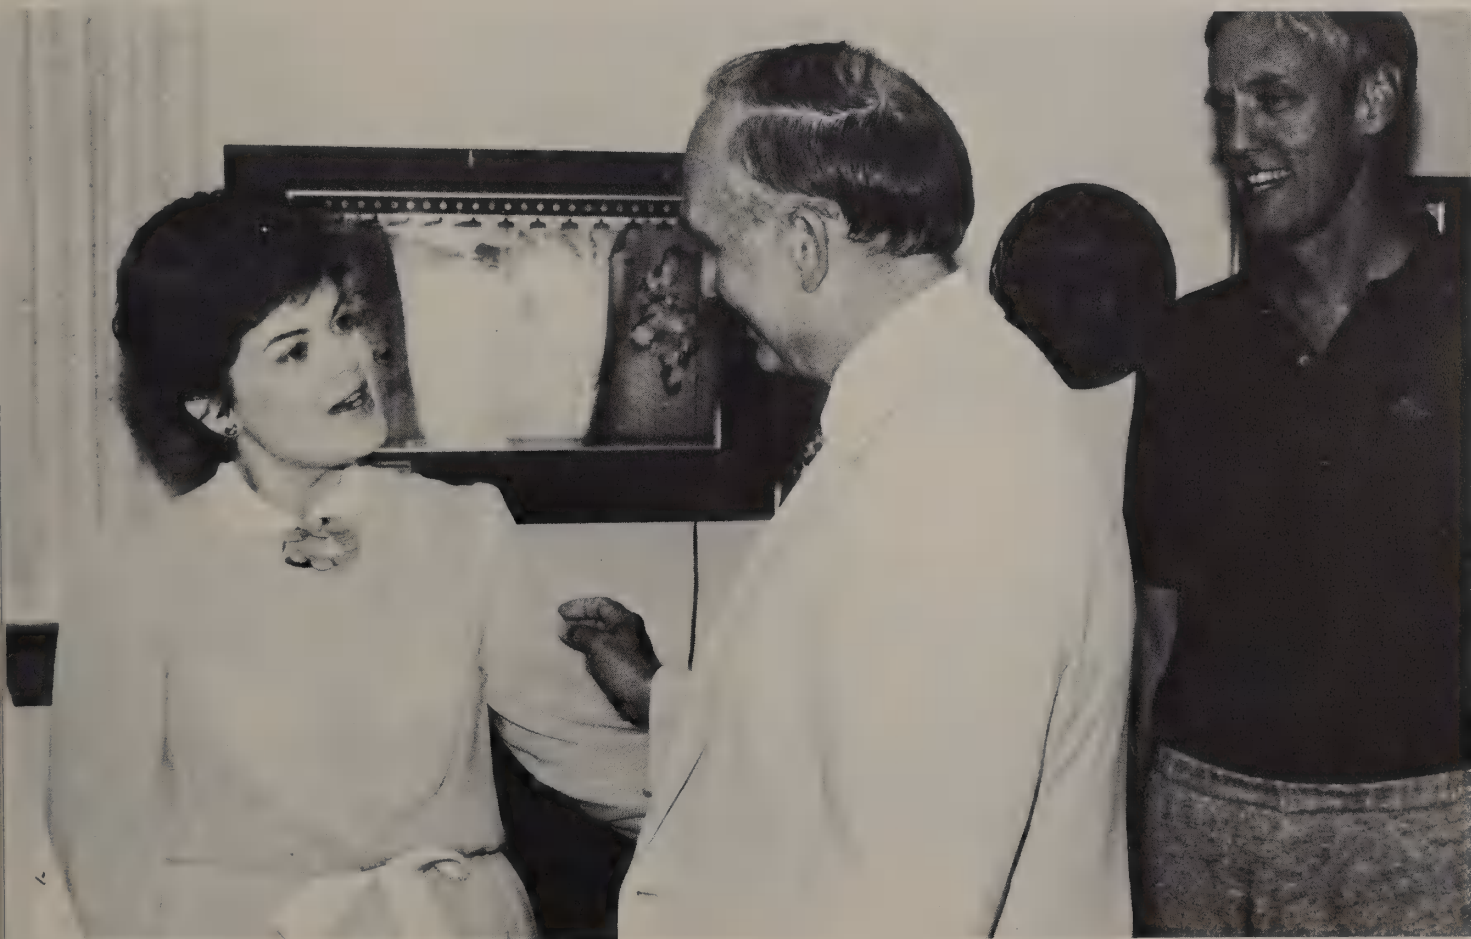

Build that spirit up: Varsity, junior varsity, and freshman cheerleaders work together to make a pyramid at a pep rally.

Super-teacher: Mrs. Linda Raya, HPISD Teacher of the Year, is congratulated by Dr. Sigler at a tea given in her honor.

Down . . . set . . . hut! Quarterback Bart Bevers makes sure everyone is ready before he begins the next play in the Scots' season opener.

Monte python?: A snake trainer from the Marsalis Zoo shows a Burmese python at a Hi-Lites meeting.

H.P. Oktoberfest: Students try to decide what to buy of the various paintings and crafts made by art club members for their art and bake sale.

Star stagehand: Janay Ferguson performs one of the many chores in preparation for the Senior Play by painting a prop for the set.

Homecoming, art club sale occupy month

Besides a pleasant change of weather, October brought many activities for H.P. students. Some included State Fair Day, Texas-O.U. Weekend, and Scot football games.

Clubs opened up membership for students. New organizations such as the Country Club and Novels and Movies Club offered a greater variety for students to choose from. Hi-Lites held its annual Mother-Daughter Tea on October 4, at the home of club officer, Day Dickinson.

The Art Club sponsored the first "H.P. OKTOBERFEST." Many club members made craft items, paintings and baked goods for the sale.

Several seniors were recognized for high honors in different areas. Thirty new members were initiated into the National Honor Society, and a party was held for them at Karen Neal's home. Seven seniors were named National Merit Semi-Finalists for scoring in the top one-half percent nationwide on the PSAT/NMS-QT, while sixteen other seniors achieved the honor of National Merit Commendee for scoring in the top five percent in the nation.

"Could It Be Magic" was the theme of the 1981 Homecoming Dance, sponsored by the Student Council. H.P. students danced to the music of the band, Money. Michelle Aldridge was named Homecoming Queen at the dance.

The month ended with first rehearsals for the Senior Play, football wins over South Garland and Mesquite, and, of course, Halloween.

New member: Dr. Sigler welcomes Shane Read into NHS, as Karl Rathjen presides over the initiation.

Halftime highlight: The Highlander Band gives an entertaining performance for Scot fans.

The Scots' thrilling 3-0 victory over North Mesquite kicked off Homecoming for 1981. During halftime at the game, the six nominees were introduced with their fathers on the field.

The dance was held the next night, October 17, in the new gym. The theme was "Could It Be Magic". The band "Money" provided music for the event. About halfway through the dance, Student Council President Jonathan Ladd crowned Michelle Aldridge Homecoming Queen.

Each nominee was escorted by a varsity football player to her favorite song. Tommy McElroy escorted Michelle Aldridge to "Reach Out and Touch". Becky Brooks, escorted by Bob Berry, chose the song, "Ben". Reagan Fairchild, with Timmy Watson, chose "Arthur's Theme." Katie Hutchison walked down the aisle with Dan Strother to "Biggest Part of Me," while T. D. Briggs escorted Stephanie Jones to "Dream On." Claire Squibb and Blake Bernet walked to "Got To Be There."

A moment to remember: Michelle Aldridge beams after she is announced Homecoming Queen.

Let's go get 'em: The varsity Scots prepare to "Stall the Stallions" at Homecoming 1981.

"Wild Night," other events fill November

November was highlighted by various school activities and sports events. The senior class started the month off right with the annual Senior Play, Oscar Wilde's The Importance of Being Earnest. Leading roles were played by Jeff Blain, Dina Jones, David Glass, and Sutton Stephens. Mrs. Linda Raya, director, and all cast members worked hard to make the play a great success.

The Highlander Band achieved a first division superior rating in UIL competition. In other competition, the girls' cross country track team won regionals and advanced to the State Championship in Georgetown to capture the state title. The girls on the team were Wendy Irwin, Libby Lumpkin, Kathy Lumpkin, Jeanie Smith, Amy Taylor, Karen Kessler, and captain Anne Beall.

The Scot football season was filled with much excitement and emotion. Coach Frank Bevers led the Scots to an unchallenged district championship, finishing the season with a 9-2 record after defeating Wilmer-Hutchins 40-6. The H.P. Basketballers opened their home season defeating R. L. Turner 73-70 in overtime.

On November 21, Hi-Lites held its annual fall dance. The theme was "Come on and go Hawaiian". Students dressed in Hawaiian and beach type outfits.

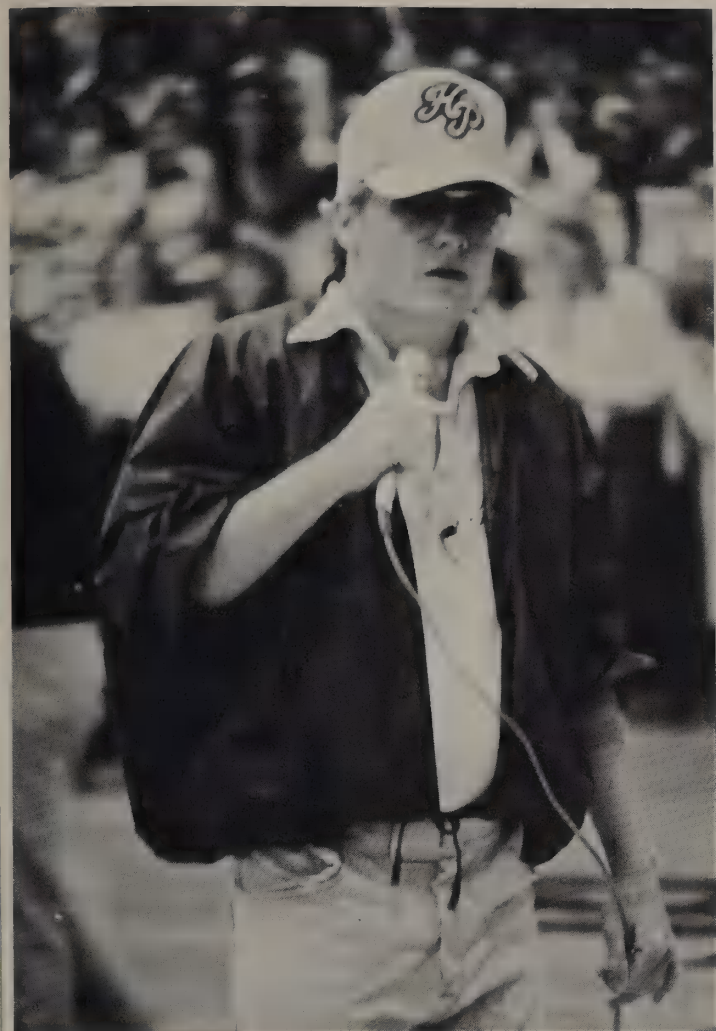

This month was characterized by another important event. On November 11 the Park Cities sponsored "Wild Night", a fund raising effort to benefit the family of Coach Jim Wild. The entire community, including all the schools, did their part in a very successful drive. Both silent and live auctions offering valuable prizes marked the end of a successful community fund raising event.

Exterminate those gophers: Kyle Ford gets ready to blow up the opponent before the playoff game.

Scot spirit: Brad Weir, Becky Brooks, Michelle Aldridge, and Reagan Fairchild decorate a car.

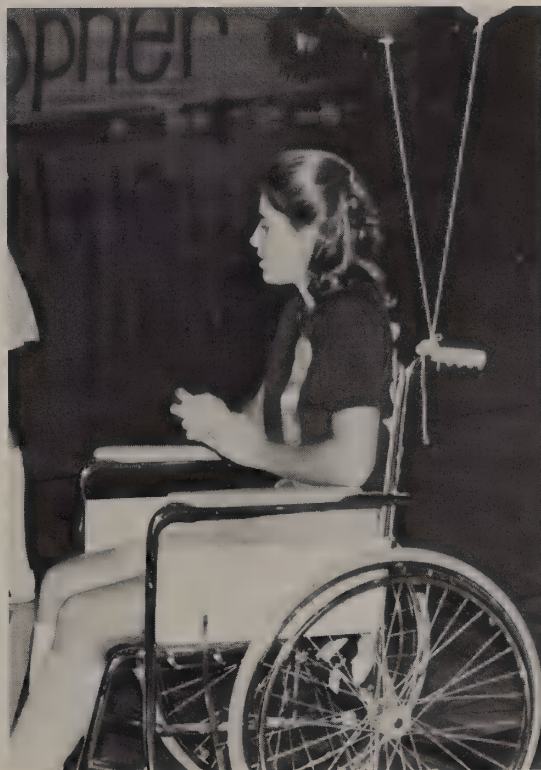

Like father, like son: Bart Bevers impersonates his dad at a pep rally.

A community effort: The auctioneer for "Wild Night in the Park Cities" directs the bidding during the fund raising event.

The winning combination: Girls' cross country team members Michele Medlock, Kathy Lumpkin, and Libby Lumpkin receive victory apples after capturing the state championship.

You can't keep a good man down: Varsity cheerleader Caren Cain supports the Scots despite her broken ankle.

The Importance of Being Earnest

This year's Senior Play was "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde. The plot involved Algernon (Jeff Blain) and his friend Jack (David Glass). Jack was in love with Gwendolyn (Sutton Stephens) who believed Jack's name was Ernest. Ernest was Jack's imaginary brother. (Actually, the two were one and the same.) Algernon was in love with Cecily (Dina Jones) who believed Algernon was Ernest, Jack's wicked imaginary brother. Both men wished to be cristened Ernest because their fiances both felt they could only be married to a man named Ernest. The play resolved itself when Jack's real name was discovered to be Ernest; and Jack, Cecily's guardian, agrees to allow her to marry Algernon.

Other senior cast members included Janay Ferguson and Constance Adams double cast as Lady Bracknell, Sally O'Connell and Betsy Rouse double cast as Miss Prism, Kyle Ford and Scot Sigler double cast as Dr. Chausable, Brad Weir and Paul Taylor double cast as Merriman, John Christian and Duff Smith double cast as Lane, and Mary Mills and Tricia Rippey as the maids.

The play was a great success and was greatly enjoyed by all who attended.

Earnest after all: Everyone is happy to learn that the two couples can marry at last.

Tea for two: Lane (Brad Weir) serves Cecily (Dina Jones) and Gwendolyn (Sutton Stephens) tea.

Pretty please: Algernon (Jeff Blain) begs to be allowed to marry Cecily (Dina Jones).

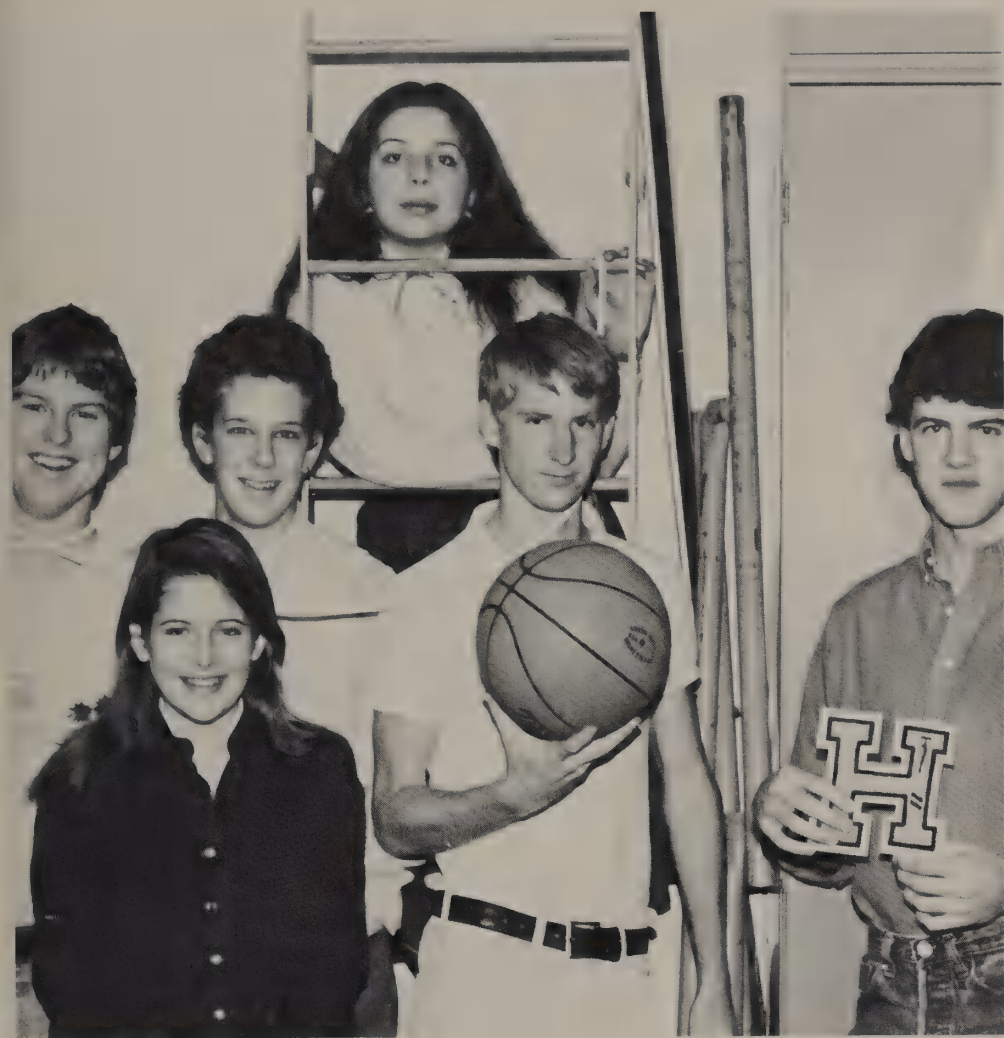

I simply adore them!: Jack (David Glass) looks on as Algernon (Jeff Blain) eats muffins.

National Merit names several test winners

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation named seven Highland Park seniors as semi-finalists this year, as well as sixteen commendees. The semi-finalists scored in the top one-half percent of the nation on the PSAT/NMSQT taken during the fall of their sophomore year. Commendees achieved their titles by scoring in the top five percent nationwide on the same test.

Semi-finalists were Constance Adams, Janay Ferguson, Stacy Jordan, Jim Kasischke, Parnell McCarter, Holly McGuire, and Eddie Tatum. Commendees were Bill Davis, Amy Duncan, Tom Ellis, David Frase, Mary Huck, Jimmy Jud, Marsa Munroe, Karen Neal, Karl Rathjen, Erica Scholder, Karen Shouse, Cesar Stastny, Scott Stockwell, and Maureen Sweeney. Matt and Sam Perry, now attending Southern Methodist University, were also named commendees.

The semi-finalists went on to compete for National Merit finalists standings and for university scholarships.

Super-jocks?: Semi-finalists Jim Kasischke, Holly McGuire, Stacy Jordan, Constance Adams, Parnell McCarter, and Eddie Tatum reveal their true personalities.

Mad scientists: Commendees Ken Shouse, Tom Ellis, Jimmy Jud, Karen Neal, Erica Scholder, Marsa Munroe, Karl Rathjen, David Frase, and Maureen Sweeney spend time in the lab.

Clubs, choirs give joy, spirit in December

December began with a bang as the Scot Varsity round-ballers captured first place in the Austin Tournament by defeating Austin High, ranked seventh in the state. Earlier in the month, the Scots received second place in their own Scot Classic tournament.

All the choirs spread the Christmas spirit by caroling to the needy, both old and young. In addition, the Lads and Lassies sang for the DAR and retired persons in separate concerts. The Key Club hosted its annual Christmastime dance to the beat of King Cobra.

In mid-December, Neil Diamond took the stage for two concerts in Reunion Arena with several HPHS students in the audience.

Several clubs brightened Christmas for the needy. The Country Club, one of the newest girls' clubs at HPHS, donated food and presents to a West Dallas family. Meanwhile, the Hi-Lite officers decorated Christmas trees at Children's Medical Center and sang carols to children attending a school for the retarded.

Advanced drama members, under the leadership of Mrs. Linda Raya, acted out their original Christmas sketches to the delight of children at several area day-care centers. The Student Council gathered canned foods from the separate classes as well as from the community to give to less fortunate families.

The HPHS orchestra performed holiday melodies in the library on the last day before vacation. The big school brightener was the infamous singing teacher group, known as Hairy, Larry, Jerry, and Mary.

The Highlander staff munched on Christmas goodies at its annual party, and the Bagpipe staff met for a dinner party while both publication parties upheld the tradition of exchanging gag gifts.

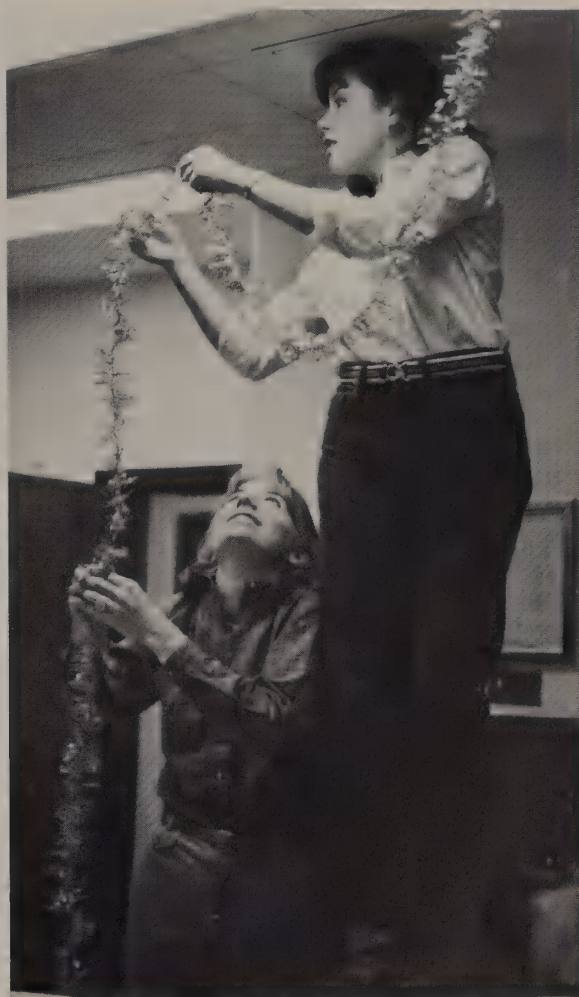

Whiz kids: Kyle Krebs, Jim Kasischke, and Cecilia Yu race for the buzzer.

Deck the halls: Officers decorate the SCO.

Jingle bells: Lads and Lassies carol the halls on the last day before Christmas vacation.

Tinsel time: Mary Huck and Laurie Brown volunteer to help put up Christmas decorations at a children's hospital.

Poster girl: A surprised Mrs. Dillard looks at her Christmas present from some former students.

Cold weather allows Scots to miss school

Along with the cold weather came the month of January. H.P. students enjoyed two holidays while the school was closed due to cold temperatures and the gas curtailment.

The Senior Girls' Dance was held on January 7 at the Hyatt Regency Hotel Ballroom. A week later, on January 14 and 15, students took midterm exams.

The Hi-Lites dance, with a jungle safari theme, was held on January 30. Senior Bob Berry was announced Hi-Lite King. The other Nominees were Craig Bailey, Blake Bernet, John Hall, Tommy Hughston, and Tommy McElroy.

Scots attended the annual football banquet on January 27, while the basketball team continued a winning season.

Last minute cram: Junior Nancy Dzina fits in a little more studying before taking a mid-term exam.

Serious talk: On a visit to the high school, a state prison convict speaks to students about the use of drugs.

What to say: Hi-Lite King Nominee Blake Bernet contemplates the question posed to him at a Hi-Lites meeting.

Hard thinking: Freshmen concentrate on CBTS testing in the large auditorium.

Cafeteria decorators: Tracy Wright, Craig Bailey, Stephanie Jones, and Jim Mills put up posters for International Week in the cafeteria.

Say cheese: Carolyn Shoemaker, Ms. Orr, Mrs. Bush, and Mrs. Pierce gather carnations to deliver to first period classes.

Battle of the sexes: Hi-Lites officers compete against Leo Club members in a friendly game of basketball.

The month of February kicked off with International Week in the cafeteria. The week of February 1-5 centered on various foreign languages, serving a sample of each country's food each day. On Feb. 3, the Hi-Lites officers met the Leo Club in a fun-filled Olympic tournament, including basketball and relays. The boys swept the girls away in basketball while the girls came back with a triumphant victory in the relays.

In keeping with the Valentine season, the AFS Club sponsored its yearly carnation sale. The money collected from the project benefitted the Foreign exchange students. On February 12, AFS members got up early to sort the carnations into piles and deliver them to each classroom. The Valentine atmosphere was also seen at the Junior Girls' Dance on February 13, entitled "Say You'll Be Mine." The band, Ultimate Force, kept the Hilton dance floor alive. Students also enjoyed another dance on February 20. The Junior Symphony Ball was held in the Great Hall at the Apparel Mart. Students danced to the sounds of King Cobra in their formal attire.

Brotherhood week came in the middle of the month, beginning on February 15. Guest speaker Bill Reif addressed students at an assembly on Monday, February 15, and was well-liked by everyone.

Michelle Aldridge

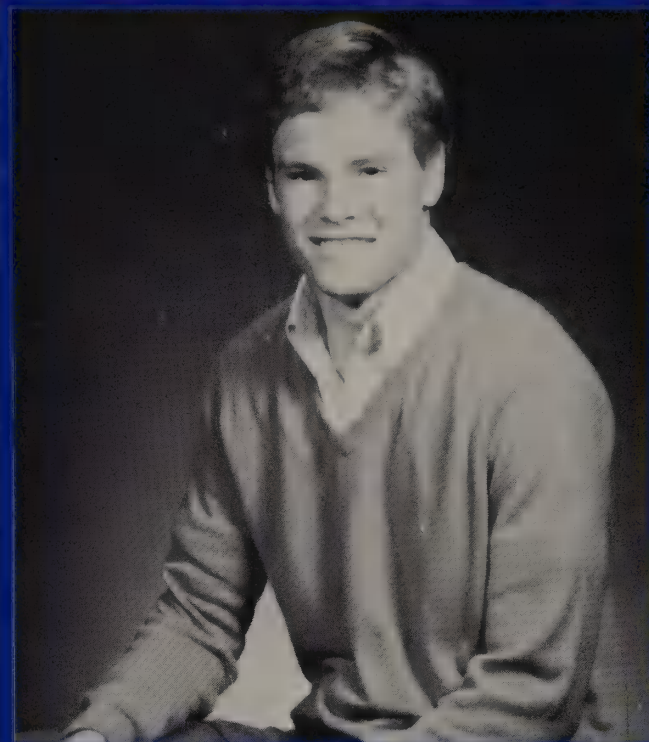

Selected as a 1981-82 favorite was senior Michelle Aldridge. Michelle was both a freshman and varsity cheerleader and was voted Homecoming Queen. She also participated in F.C.A., Hi-Lites, Student Council, and Novels and Movies. Blake Bernet played football for four years and was a captain this year. He also participated in Student Council, serving as Vice-President in 1981-82. A member of the Sailing Club, F.C.A., and the Leo Club, Blake was also a Hi-Lites King Nominee.

Gigi Alexander

In addition to being both a junior varsity and varsity cheerleader, Gigi Alexander was a member of the Student Council for three years. She was secretary of her junior class and a four-year member of Hi-Lites. Quarterback Bart Bevers played football for four years and was a captain in 1981. He was a member of F.C.A. and was its Vice-President this year. Bart also participated in Student Council, track, and Records and Tapes.

Caren Cain raised spirit as both a freshman and varsity cheerleader. She was on the Spirit Committee as a junior and a member of Hi-Lites for four years. Novels and Movies, A.F.S., and Student Council were also organizations in which Caren participated. T. D. Briggs helped the Scots by playing football for four years and serving as a captain this year. A two-year member of the Leo Club, T. D. was on the Executive Board as a senior. He also participated in F.C.A. for four years.

Reagan Fairchild

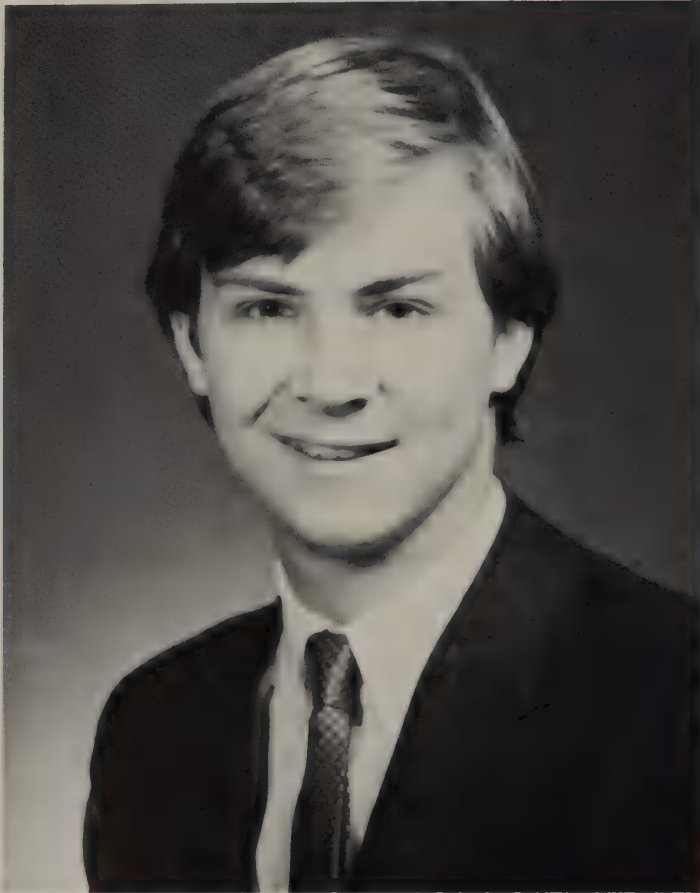

Varsity cheerleader Reagan Fairchild was also selected as a Homecoming Queen Nominee. Reagan ran on the track team for two years and was in the Hi-Lites club all four years. As a senior, she was a member of the National Honor Society and Novels and Movies. Jonathan Ladd held the position of Student Council President this year after serving as junior representative. He played on the tennis team for two years, and was a member of Quill and Scroll and National Honor Society. Jonathan also contributed to the Highlander Editorial Staff and was a Key Club Board member as a senior.

HP principal travels north, visits schools

Dr. E. A. Sigler's 1981-82 year came to a high point when Money magazine named Highland Park one of the top twelve American high schools. Following this article, Dr. Sigler traveled to several of the other schools which held the top twelve rating to "look for similarities and differences, for improvement and for implementation" at HPHS.

One different aspect which Dr. Sigler noted at these schools was the individual assistance in particular departments available to students at any time. He also noticed the heavy use of microcomputers in the schools, adding that HP had recently invested in several more computers for use by the various departments. This trip was a "great experience" for Dr. Sigler and he discovered that HP was on the same par as the other schools.

Dr. Sigler feels the new printing office system is working out well, although there are still problems in the system to which to adapt. The operation provides production in large quantities and better copies to give students for handouts and exams.

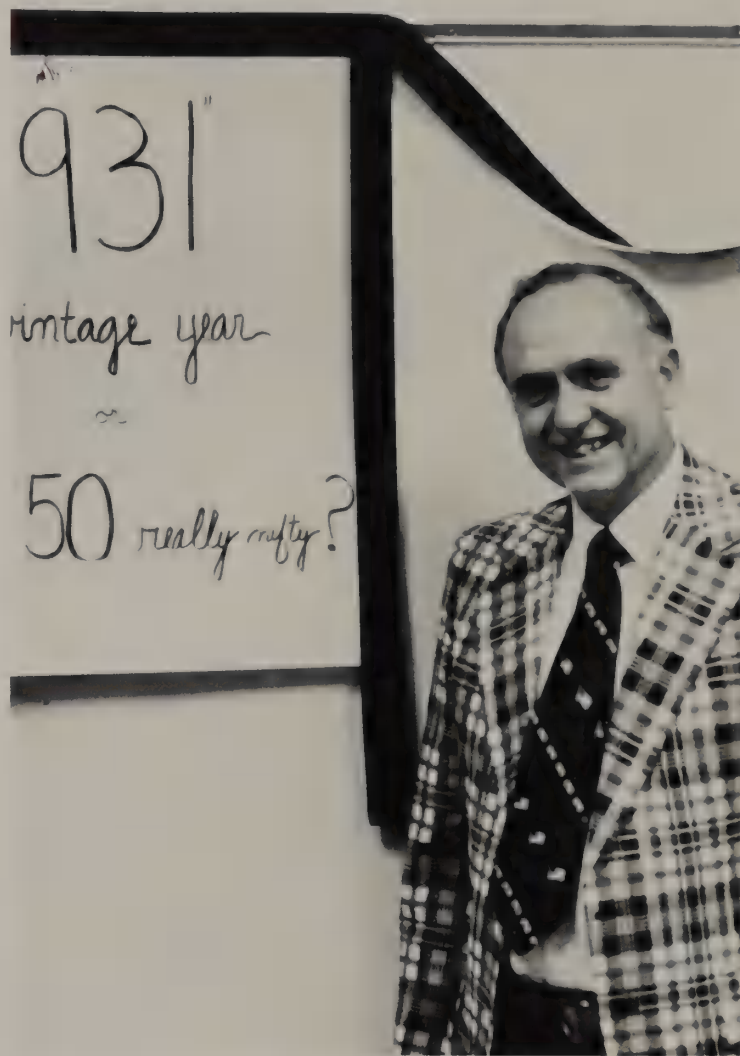

This year is Dr. Sigler's final year to serve on the Scholastic Aptitude Test Committee. He feels he has made "important contributions to improving the SAT."

The HP principal was recently elected vice president of the Texas Association of Secondary Schools. Look for him as president of the organization in several years.

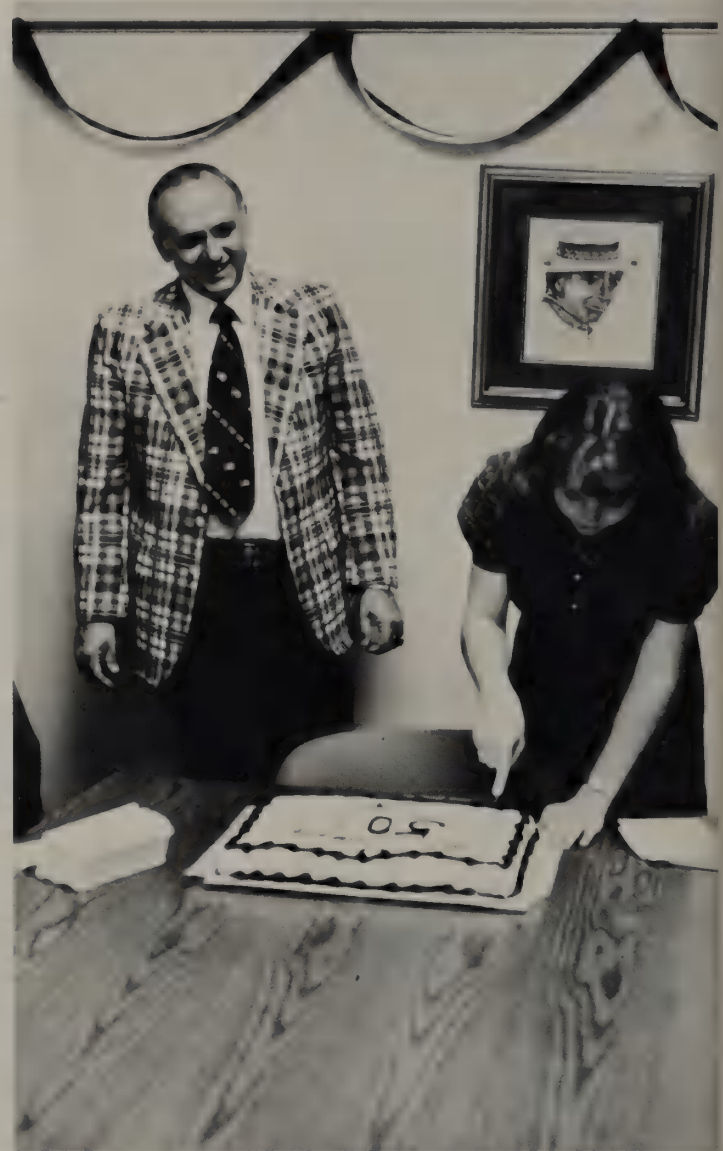

Dr. Sigler recalled his annual two-week summer excursion to the Gulf for fishing and relaxation. He loves to fish in the winter, as well, and during both seasons brings home trout, flounder and kingfish.

DR. E. A. SIGLER
PRINCIPAL

A milestone: Cake and decorations greet Dr. Sigler on his birthday.

Administrators relax, enjoy many hobbies

A new assistant principal Miss Claire Anderson, joined the HP faculty this year. She served as an intern in the spring of 1981. Compared with other schools, she says, the students at Highland Park are "more interested in being at school, whether for social or academic reasons," which is a "pleasant atmosphere" for her to work in.

Miss Anderson sponsors the junior class officers whose responsibility it is to make money for the Jr.-Sr. Prom. The officers sold coupon books and baseball hats for this purpose.

Miss Anderson loves to needlepoint. However, she has had a difficult time keeping her registered black Manx cat out of her work.

It was hard for Miss Anderson to come up with one particular zenith in her year thus far. She loves the opportunity to work with the professionals on staff and to get to know the "nice people in the junior and freshman classes."

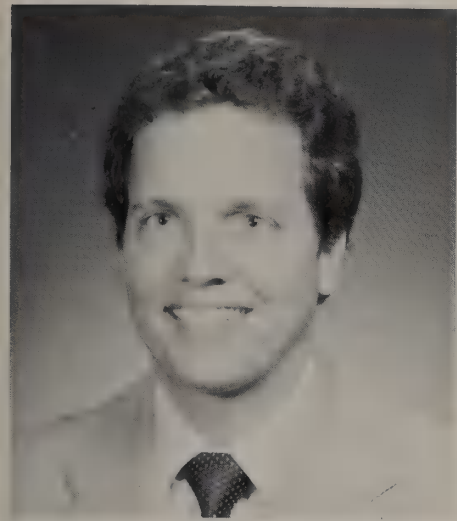

Mr. Dale Lawrence settled into his second year as an administrator to the tenth and twelfth grade students. Being his second year, "it's been easier" he says, though with two new classes there are different aspects to get used to and always something new to learn.

A father of three children, Mr. Lawrence finds that there is a "very definite" effect from his job with kids. Besides spending time with his children, Mr. Lawrence loves to camp, fish, and play tennis.

Mr. Lawrence's goal for the 1981-82 year, as well as for every year, is to "instill a greater sense of responsibility in the students" in preparation for the future.

Power swing: Mr. Dale Lawrence releases tension in a game of tennis after a hard day at school.

Board works on expansion of computers

Highland Park's School Board remained involved in many various aspects of the school system this year. One of the biggest projects the board undertook was the development of the high school's new micro-computers. The school board plans to expand the use of the computers to the middle school as well as the elementary schools. Board members would also like to develop a computer literary program, beginning with the early grades.

Board members worked on Highland Park's curriculum guides as well as instituting a new weight and figure control class at the high school. Member Mrs. Duffield Smith commented that the new print shop was working well with few complaints. The Seay family made a donation to H.P.H.S. for some new covered tennis courts at the high school.

What's the deal?: Mr. Walter Spradley, Mr. John Eisenlohr, and Mrs. Duffield Smith listen to suggestions.

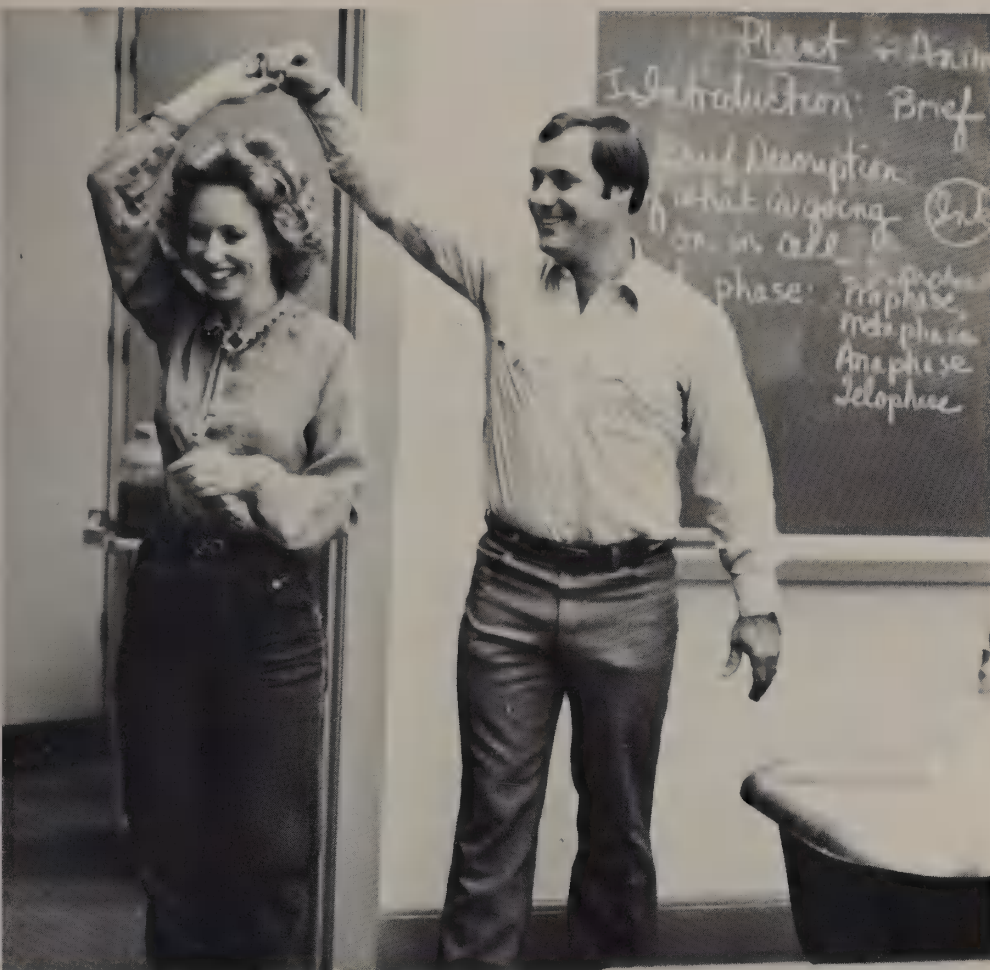

Tell it like it is: Dr. Winston Power discusses the new computers while Mr. Robert Reed listens.

Faculty enjoys rustic hobbies in spare time

Contrary to popular belief, HP teachers do participate in other activities besides school life.

Many enjoy the outdoors. Coach Bohac and Mr. Atteberry like to relax and fish while Mrs. Drury would rather go boating. Coach Emery can always be found with a club in his hand on the golf course and Mrs. Griffin most likely would enjoy gliding down a snow-covered mountain.

Animals prove to be another popular hobby. Mrs. Carolyn Brown and Mrs. Judy Newell spend a lot of time with their golden retrievers. Mr. Wendland prefers Rhodesian Ridgebacks. Mrs. Douthit would instead be seen bird-watching.

Other teachers enjoy many creative arts, such as Miss Turner who does sundry arts such as photography, calligraphy, and oil painting.

Mr. Lee entertains the more unusual art of wine-making, while Mrs. Kearley collects and admires antique clocks, just as Miss Logue likes all types of antiques and dolls. Mr. Wilkes takes time out for record collecting and puppetry.

Some other interesting "hobbyists" are Coach Sorrells, who raises tropical plants, Coach Richardson, who is interested in Indian history, Miss Claire King who likes astronomy, and Mrs. Kay Kyle who trades coupons. "I trade with about fifteen ladies from all over the U.S.," she says.

Swing your partner: Mrs. Turner and Coach Van Hooser practice kicker dancing.

C'mon in, the water's fine: Mrs. Leitner coaxes "Ginger" into her homemade hottub.

While many teachers chose to forget about books, desks, and classrooms during the summer months, others just could not tear themselves from the habit of school. During the summer, however, the teachers were on the other side of the desk, being taught instead of teaching.

Highland Park teachers attended seminars and workshops at various colleges and universities around the area. Miss LaDonna Weber continued her education at Richland, while Mrs. Donna Pierce went to Brookhaven, working on her secondary teachers certificate in composite science through UT of Dallas.

Seminars held out of Dallas likewise captured interested teachers. Mrs. Leitner attended the National Meeting of Marine Educators in Galveston; Mrs. Hierholzer took several hours of graduate English at St. Mary's University in San Antonio. At the same time Mr. Wendland attended master classes at the Aspen Music Festival.

What a catch! Mrs. Carolyn Brown, in her fishing hat, arranges her newly won trophy.

Several teachers continued study towards their degrees. Mr. Ron Van Hooser studied biology at NTSU, along with Miss Sheree Davis, who also attended summer school there. Miss Janet Beckmann took courses at East Texas State U., furthering her education.

Other seminars of varying topics interested HP faculty. Mrs. Kay Kyle, for example, attended a refunding seminar, and Mrs. Lorna Griffin took an advanced reading workshop in Spanish. Miss Paula Duckworth enjoyed a watercolor class, as Mr. Jim Lee took courses in economics. Mrs. Mindy Simmons took sociology and wrote a research paper.

When August rolled around, the faculty of HP, after going to school themselves this summer, was able to empathize with the study pains of the students.

Many changes take place in office, library

During the long school months, the ladies in the attendance office, counselors' offices, and clinic proved to be an important factor in the lives of many students.

Students not feeling well were well taken care of in the clinic by nurse Dolores Snodgrass. Mrs. Snodgrass charted students' weights, heights, and took countless temperatures. She efficiently handled the steady stream of students, even on Monday, the clinic's busiest day. Mrs. Joyce Carmichael and Mrs. Jan Payne kept an accurate record of student absences in the attendance office. Student assistants helped by collecting attendance cards and delivering messages to both students and teachers.

In the library, head librarian Mary

Hoebeker was aided by assistants LaDonna Wever and Elaine Johnson. They were available to help students locate books and do research for term papers and reports. Student assistants helped out by shelving books and working in the periodical room, and various other jobs.

Freshman counselor Barbara Rider played an important role in the lives of freshmen, giving them advice about entering high school and their schedules for the next four years. Mrs. Willetta Peckham counseled the sophomores, while Mrs. Donna Fischer took care of the juniors. Mrs. Betty Guest aided seniors with college applications and selections.

Copy cat: Dee Dockery runs off material on the library copy machine.

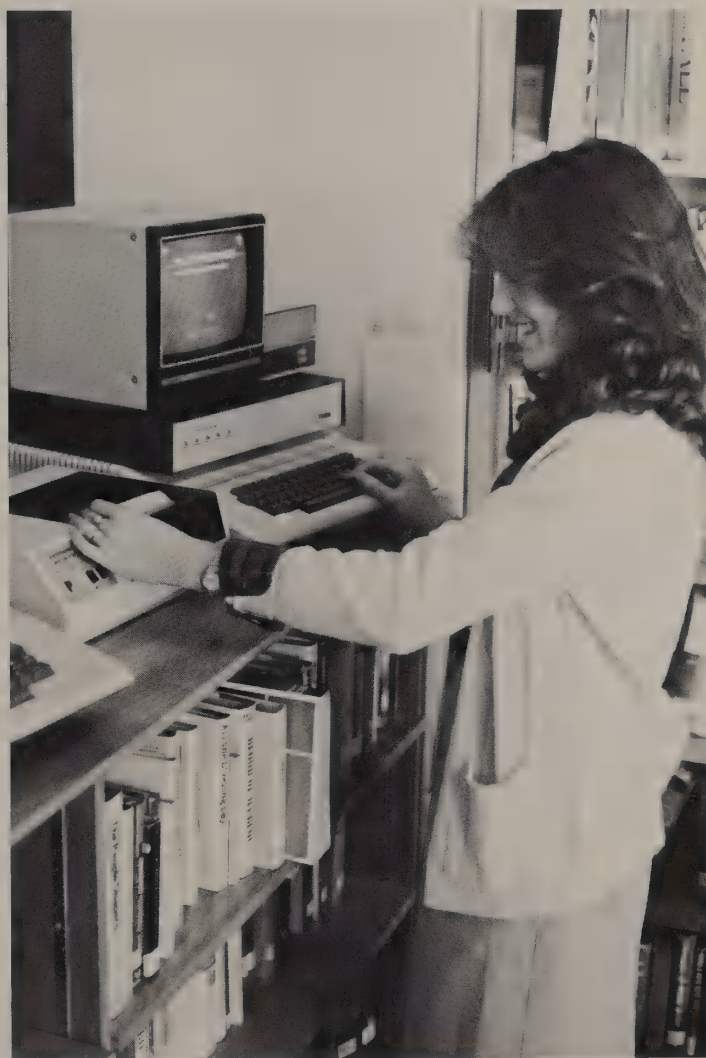

Change up: Students wait patiently for their transfer slips at the beginning of the new semester.

Fill in your second period teacher: Mrs. Hoebeker instructs a student about checking out a book.

So popular: Mrs. Fischer points to the next student in the long line waiting to see her.

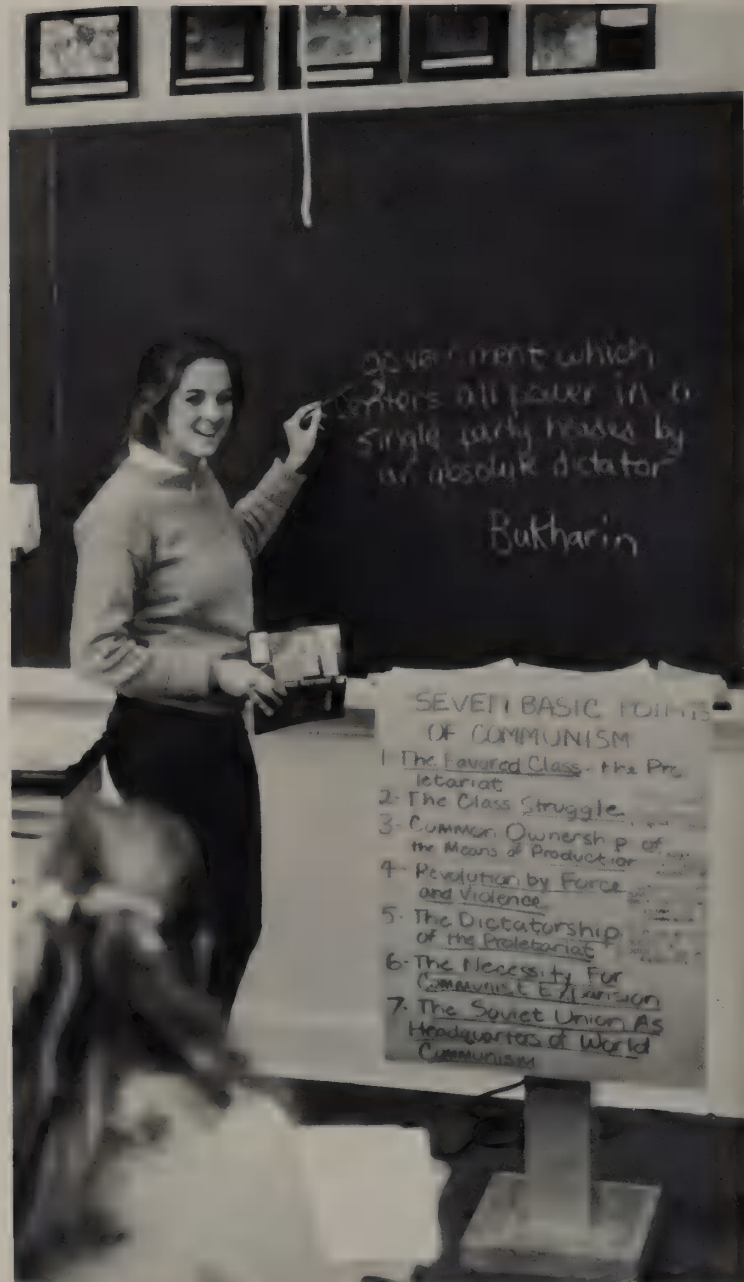

Stand up straight: Mrs. Snodgrass weighs and measures senior Claire Squibb.

Oh wow: Sophomore Toni Rothpletz brushes up on her computer skills.

Don't strain yourself: Mary Van Ellis and Kathy Rott prepare themselves for the upcoming AP exam.
Oh, Murray: Students in Mrs. Brown's AP English creatively teach the class.

Now class . . . Jennifer Simmons teaches about communism from Darkness at Noon.

Students study many authors, various books

This year, Freshman English classes were given a taste of literature by reading John Steinbeck's The Pearl. They then moved on to Shakespeare's times with Romeo and Juliet.

Sophomore major works students were interested by the totalitarian government presented by George Orwell's Animal Farm. Poetry and short stories also gave students the opportunity to examine mechanics and other literary skills.

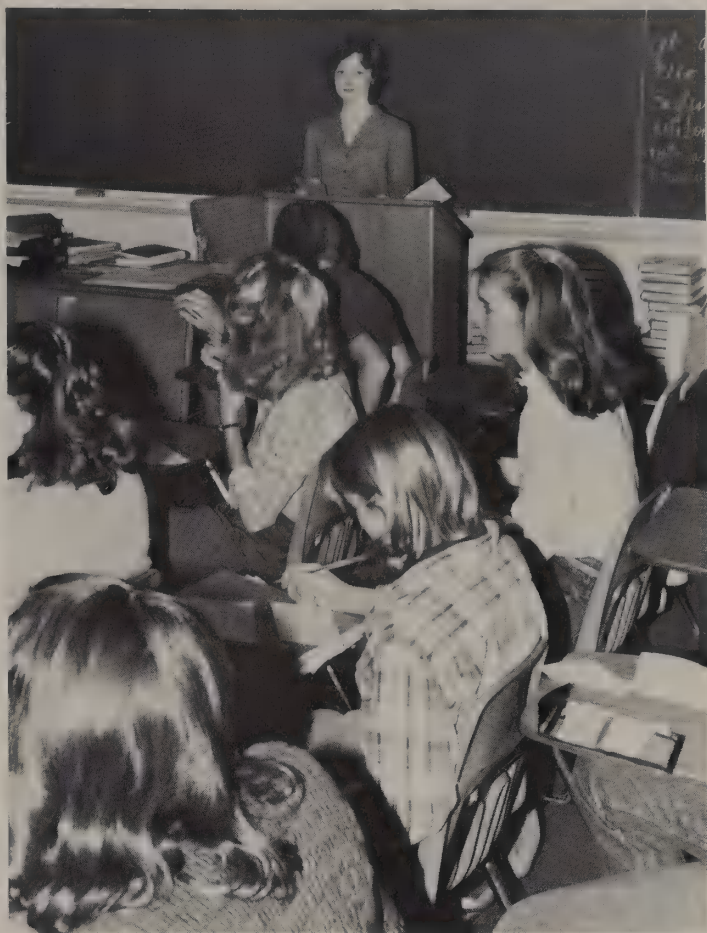

Shakespeare and Mark Twain became favorites with Junior English classes when Macbeth, Hamlet and Huckleberry Finn were diligently read by the students. Other books studied were The Great Gatsby and William Golding's Lord of the Flies.

Senior students took a hard look at Communism with Arthur Koestler's Darkness At Noon and A.P. students were prepared for the exam by taking a serious look at poetry with Sound and Sense. A greater knowledge of Shakespeare was gained when King Lear was taught by the students. A favorite of the A.P. students was Jane Austen's Pride and Prejudice.

Ouch! Lisa Crook sticks herself as she puts the finishing touches on her project for Mrs. Dillard's class.

Oh man! Jody Tompson knows Miss Carpenter must have made a mistake in grading his paper.

A homework friend?: Some sophomore students admire the capabilities of the new PET computers acquired this year.

Helping hand: Junior Carolyn Brown finally figures out the equation with the help of Miss Walters.

Once again the math department, under the leadership of chairman Mrs. Gloria Hamilton, had an exciting and busy year. The addition of several new computers helped broaden students' understanding in many areas of mathematics. Also new at Highland Park this year were two algebra teachers, Mr. Webster and Mr. Hill. They inspired students to solve quadratic equations and word problems with their exciting classroom methods.

As usual, Miss Walters' trig projects were favorites of the students, as they had a chance to demonstrate their creative talents.

Mrs. Hamilton's calculus students spent many class hours discussing and learning about integration, derivatives, and the AP exam. Take home tests provided a way to learn how to work a variety of different AP Problems and prepared the calculus classes well for the AP Exam in May.

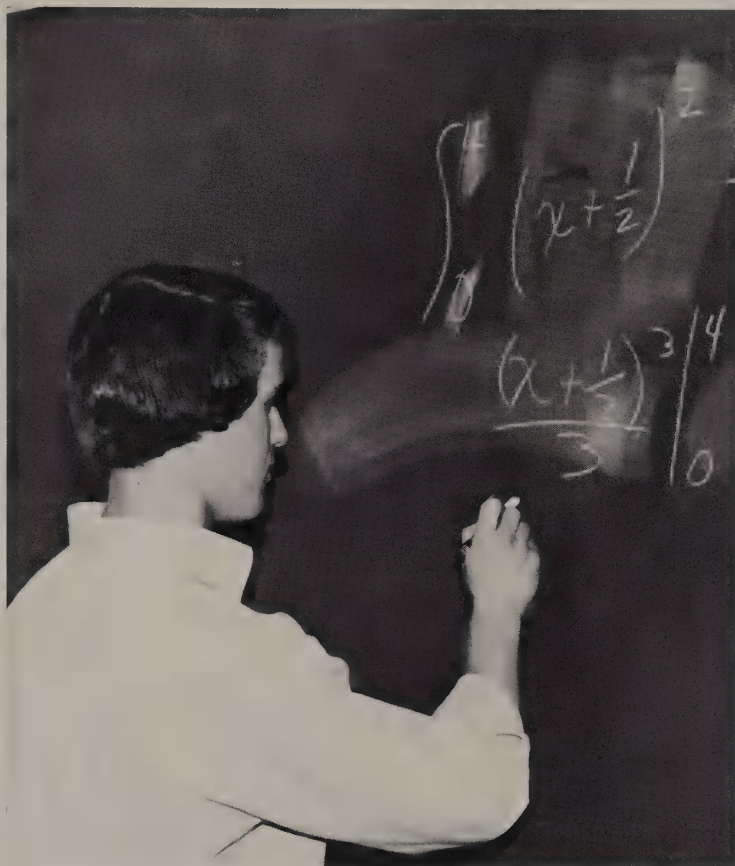

Mathematics inspires pupils during class

One more time: Geometry teacher Mr. Mastandrea tries to explain that theorem once again to confused students.

Use the power rule: Richard Reece tries to work an integration problem.

Hard work: Juniors Mary Margaret Lynch, Dabney Israel, and Nancy Dzina show an artistic touch added to trig projects.

Go for it: Lisa Hosford challenges Murray Smith to a game of "Whirly Mertz."

Mad scientists: Ken Shouse and Phillip Rogers mix chemical potions.

Confusion: Stacy Jordan looks on as Michael Segrest and Scott Shelton attempt to figure out a physics experiment.

Tune in: A.P. Chemistry students listen attentively to Dr. Puckett.

Wheels: Mr. O'Quinn teaches Kim Coffin and Philip Worthen about physics.

Experiments, labs occupy HP scientists

Through the year the science department kept busy studying and experimenting in several fields. Biology students worked on genetics and various forms of plants, animals, and the environments in which they live.

Physics students, under the supervision of Mr. O'Quinn, studied

Newton's laws and measured forces in many experiments during the year.

Advanced Chemistry students conjured up ghosts and goblins at Halloween, while other Chemistry students researched with atoms, moles, and many formulae.

Social Studies students learn about history

The HP social studies department enlightened many students this year on the past events of the world.

This year seniors concentrated on their social studies skills in economics and government. The economics classes studied supply and demand. Gross National Product and taxation were other topics of interest, along with the very current problems of inflation and recession. The government classes studied how our American government operates. The Supreme Court was a major area of study also. Mr. Hansom's classes split up into two groups to debate current issues while Mr. Hanscom acted as President.

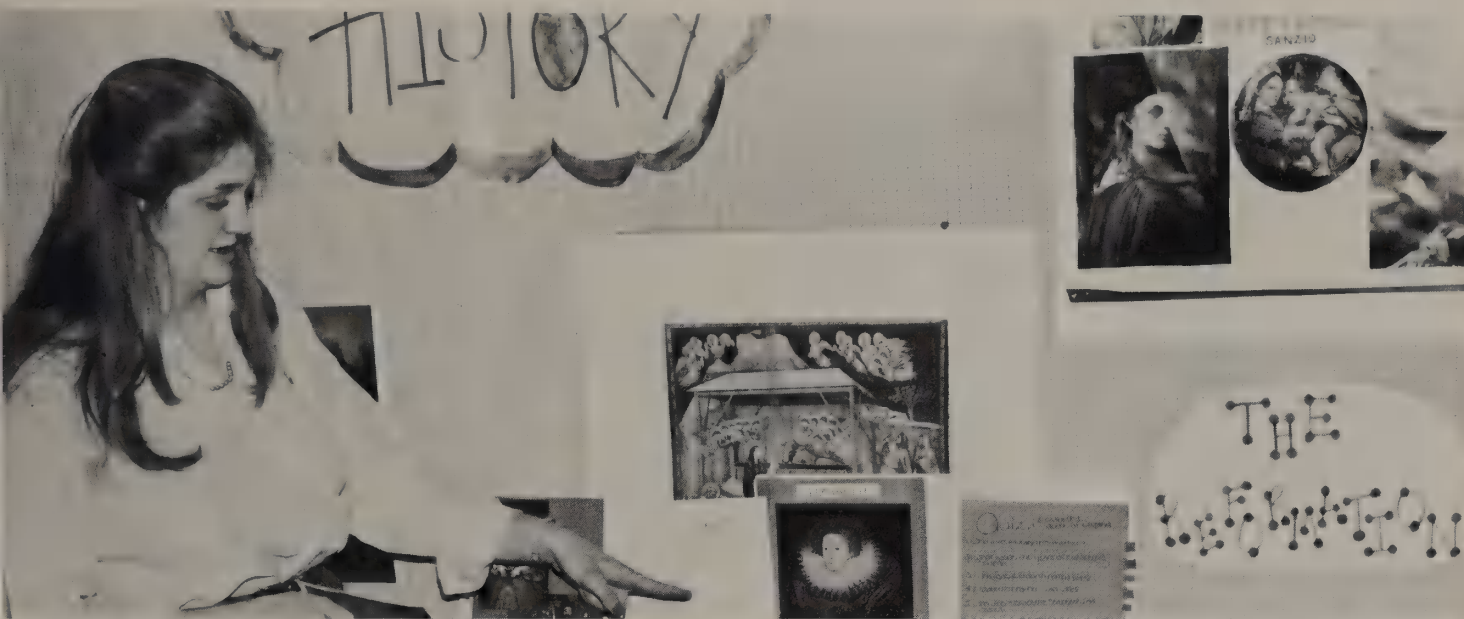

The regular American History classes started their studies with our nation's constitution. Mrs. Kearly's classes did book reports and labored over term papers. The Advanced Placement American History classes held debates. Hamilton versus Jefferson was one point they argued. These students also had term papers to be written and, of course, there was that task of studying for the infamous A.P. exam. The A.P. classes also survived another year of Mr. Don Brown's "unusually funny" jokes.

The World History classes studied the Egyptian Empire, as well as the Greeks and Romans. Mrs. Cathy Morris' classes did reports on prominent people from the Renaissance, as well as keeping up with current issues by reading "U.S. News and World Report."

Student teacher: Stefani Miller explains the Elizabethan Age to her history class.

History buff: Coach Ray Wadle teaches of ancient civilizations in his World History class.

Crammers: AP History students Erin Alexander and Elise Pettinger review for a semi-major test.

Dig in: Suzanne Webb, Walt Sosnowski, Warren Smith, and Merry Carter prepare to help themselves to a Mexican feast.

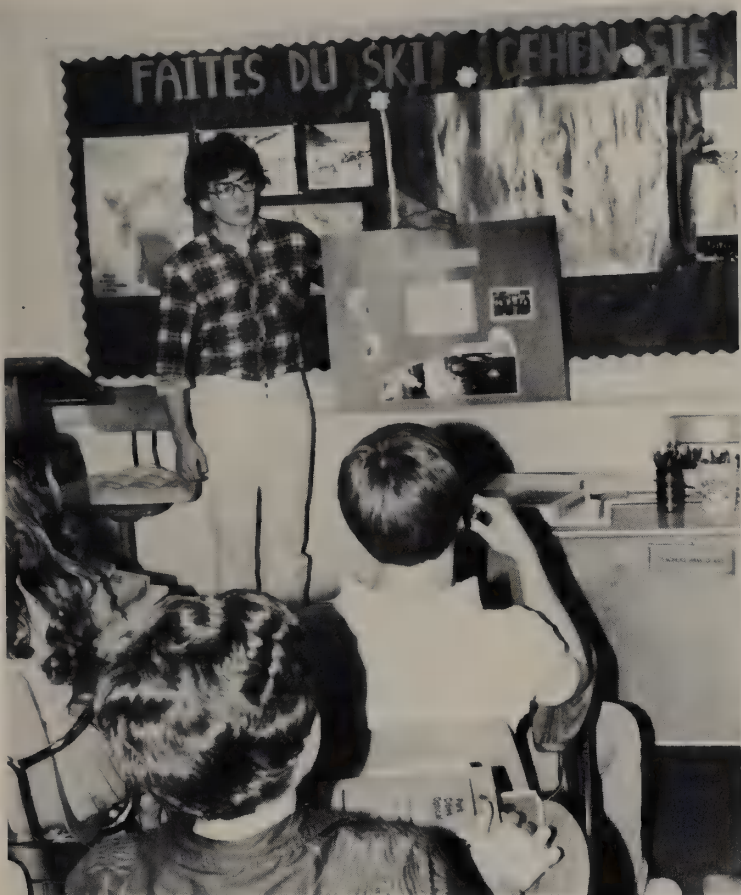

Pupils study about culture, conjugations

First and second year Spanish classes spent the year studying verb tenses and vocabulary while they also learned about Spanish culture. Third level students acquired knowledge of Spanish grammar. Many forms of Spanish literature by a variety of authors were the focus of fourth level students. AP students intensely studied famous Spanish novelists and poets in preparation for the Advanced Placement Exam.

In the Latin courses, students studied under new Latin teacher Mrs. Hill. First year pupils gained insights into Roman mythology as well as Latin vocabulary and verb conjugation. The higher level Latin classes did reports on Roman culture and translated plays and other works.

In the French classes, first year students were enlightened on the basics of conversational French. Those on the second level studied verbs and began their study of literature. The third year group intensified study with a novel by Camus and polished up their grammar. Novels by Balzac and Ionesco and other major literary works took most of the time of fourth level classes. The upperclassmen in AP French concentrated on novels and plays by famous French authors as they prepared for the AP exam.

The German classes studied European culture which included an interesting study of music. Their time was occupied with many skits and reports in the German language.

Creative display: Bryan Beeman reports on Albert Einstein to his class.

Reporters: Suzy Taylor and Holly Chamness display their poster.

Helpers: Joey Carlton and another student aid their teacher by fixing the foreign language bulletin board.

Homemakers, drama students cook and act

Students were able to show their creativity and skills through fine and practical arts taken this year.

Lads and Lassies choir members performed several concerts plus caroling during the Christmas season. They also assumed the task of preparing the musical for 1982 called "The Boyfriend."

Band and orchestra students were kept busy practicing for upcoming concerts and events. Band members enjoyed learning new marching routines for half-time performances.

Drama students perfected their performance of "The Importance of Being Earnest," while speech students learned to communicate with the audience.

Typing pupils were taught how to correctly type letters, reports, tables, and outlines. Art students showed their originality in projects done with pastels, ink, clay and watercolors.

Elementary mechanical drawing students learned to use T-squares and triangles to produce architectural drawings. Advanced students learned full scale model homes.

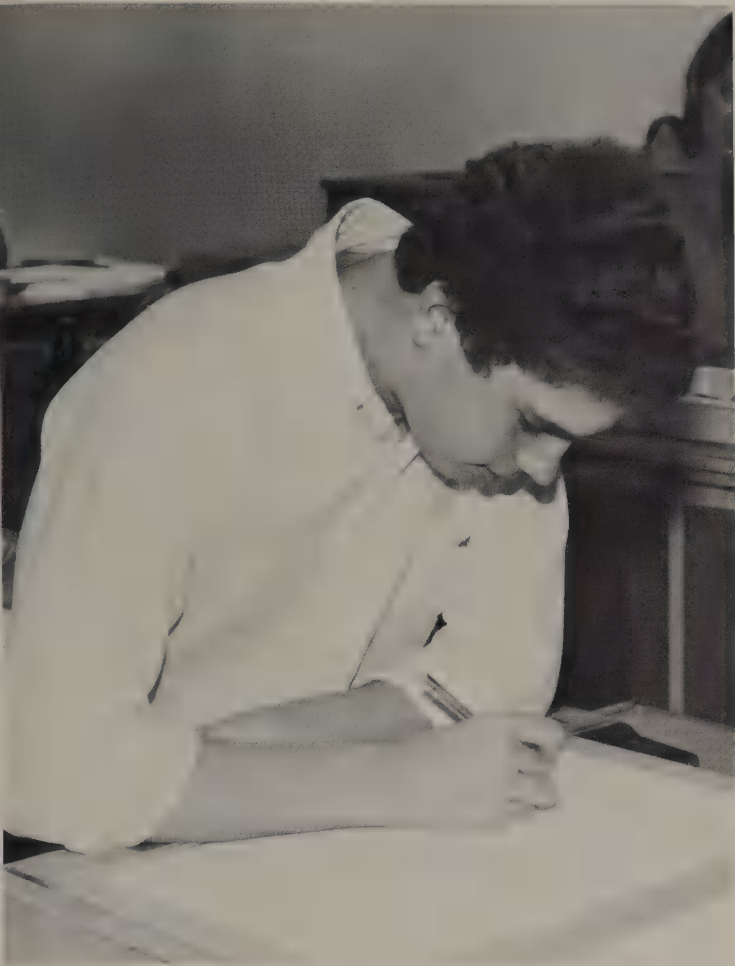

Elementary accounting students learned to balance checkbooks and hopefully maintain a larger number on the credit side rather than on the debit side.

Behind the scenes: Drama students Lance Hancock, Lynn Barham, and Mary Mills learn how to work the spotlight.

Watercolor wizard: Lillian Sheung and Thanh Trieu work on paintings in art class.

I don't get it: Jeff Moss tries to figure out what is wrong with his typewriter, while other typing students continue working.

T-squares and triangles: Freshman Ray McClung practices on an architectural layout in his elementary mechanical drawing class.

Happy homemaker: Mari Davis irons in her homemaking class.

Mikey will eat it: Linda Lightbourn, Bruce Collins, Anne Beall, Tammy Armstrong, and John Cowden experiment in the kitchen.

P.E. students learn and play during classes

Physical education classes offered a wide variety of activities in which HP students could participate. The courses offered included weight training, gymnastics, tennis, advanced lifesaving, team sports, and racquet sports. A semester each of cardiovascular-swimming and health were required for most freshmen. Cathy Wheat, the new addition to the physical education staff, introduced the weight and figure control class to the HP curriculum. This popular new course included running, jumping rope, and mostly aerobics. Three indoor tennis courts will be added soon and will provide a warm place for Kay Kyle's tennis classes to play on cold days.

Another course that grew in popularity was outdoor education taught by Mr. Jim Lee. The course was designed to teach recreation skills and lifetime sports. Students learned safety and experience in such things as hunting, camping, and boating.

Students could take Driver's Education to help them obtain their driver's licenses. This elective enabled the students to drive and observe for a total of 12 hours, in addition to classroom instruction.

Parallel park: Coach Richardson gives Elizabeth Thompson tips in Driver's Ed.

Shoot for two: Tommy McBride gets a good workout in team sports.

Getting into shape: Janet Peterson, Pattie Wilson, and Marimon Simpson tone up in the weight-figure control class.

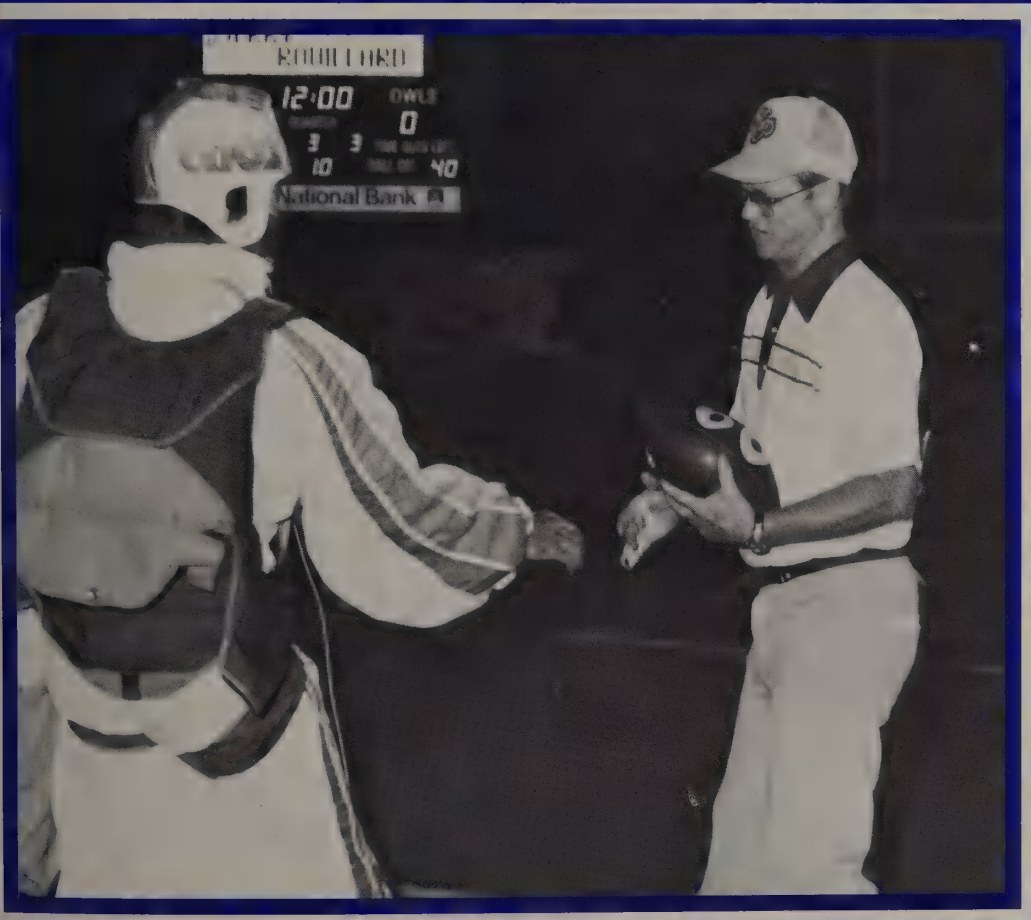

Jolly jumpers: Shelley Spies, Kee Crow, and Leigh Bywaters enjoy exercising in P.E.

Scots retain only one starter, but go on to win district title

Sticky fingers: Receiver Cullen Davis reaches up and pulls in a touchdown pass.

Although there was only one returning starter as well as a great loss at the skill positions, the Highland Park Scot football team with the strength of its twenty-five returning lettermen accepted the challenge of defending the district 10-A-A-A-A-A championship and won. Providing team leadership for the Scots were captains Blake Bernet, Bart Bevers, T. D. Briggs, and Craig Kennington.

Gone were the skilled "college type" players. Quarterback Rob Moerschell was at Texas. S.M.U. nabbed running back Kit Case and offensive lineman Andrew Campbell. All-American John Barnes went west to Stanford. The only Blue Chip left was the lone returning starter, captain Craig Kennington. But what this team didn't have in size and ability, they made up the difference with hustle and speed.

The 1981 team was a family affair of sorts. The field general for the offense was quarterback Bart Bevers, and the general for the whole team was his dad, Coach Frank Bevers. As in years past, this year was full of players whose fathers had played for the Scots. Captain Blake Bernet's father was voted "Outstanding Texas High School Player" when he played for the 1950 Scots.

After a whirlwind start against Irving MacArthur, the Scots were cooled by a seven to six loss to Sherman. The Scots were later lifted by the leg of kicker David Sweeney. Sweeney's forty-eight yard boot with a minute and seventeen seconds left provided the three point difference. After breezing through the rest of the district, the Scots finally met their match in the bi-district playoffs against the Grand Prairie Gophers.

In all it was a season to be proud of. They didn't listen when others questioned their size. They didn't falter when the injuries of mainstays Bill Hodgekinson, Bart Bevers, and Jimmy Bradley fell upon them. They were simply tough.

On the move: Quarterback Bart Bevers and running back Jimmy Bradley take off on an option play.

Time out: During a break in the action, Coach Richardson gives a few tips to players.

Varsity Scots begin season with a victory

The Scots got off to a furious start with a 28 to nothing victory over the Irving MacArthur Cardinals. Both the offense and defense were stars. Quarterback Bart Bevers led the offensive attack with three TD passes while the offense accumulated over 347 yards. The defense was just as sharp as they held the Cardinals to only three first downs and forced four turnovers.

The Sherman Bearcats then came to town along with the state's top ranking. With two defenses battling it out most of the night, the score finished at seven to six with Sherman the winner. A Scot try for two on the extra point failed.

With a 1-1 record, the Scots traveled to Denison and proceeded to take the loss to Sherman out on the Yellowjackets. The combination of Bart Bevers to flanker Cullen Davis equaled two touchdowns as the Scots cruised to a 30 to 7 win over Denison.

HP next returned home to open the district season against the Garland Owls. In another defensive game, the Scots prevailed with a 16-6 win. The defense was led by the linebacking of Joe Guffey, while cornerback Tommy McElroy picked up an interception. Bart Bevers once again controlled the offense figuring in both the Scots' TD's.

The Scots next victim was also from Garland, this time it was the Colonels from South Garland. It was a mutual effort of the offense and defense as the two forces worked together in defeating the Colonels 31-14. QB Bart Bevens put HP on top early as he threw a 75 yard TD pass to flanker Adam Cox on only the game's second play. The defense helped the cause by stopping blue-chip receiver Jeff Bolten of South Garland.

1981 Varsity Captains: T.D. Briggs, Blake Bernet, Craig Kennington, Bart Bevers.

Coaches: Frank Bevers, Doug Gibbins, Wayne Johnson, Randy Emery, Jim Castellaw, Don Richardson.

Come to papa: T. D. Briggs lays in wait for the unlucky quarterback.
Quarterback sneak: Bart Bevers finds that it's hard to run with a linebacker on his back.

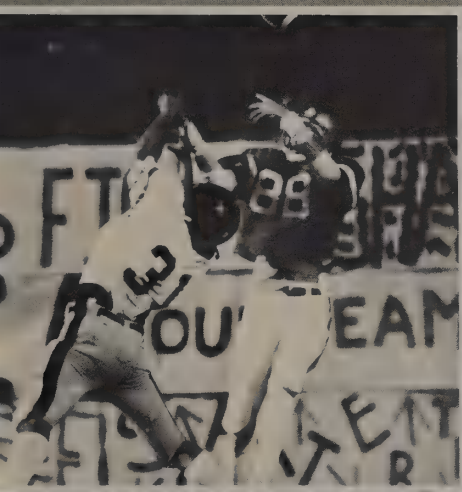

Gotcha: Senior linebacker Dan Strother drags down his Garland opponent.

Down, set, hut: The Scot offense prepares to move down the field.

Wh no you don't: Cornerback David Little makes sure the pass is incomplete.

Ready, aim, fire: Bart Bevers sends a pass sailing down the field to a Scot receiver.

Bi-district playoffs end season for 81-82 varsity football team

The second half of the Scot football season began with a barn burner as HP skipped by the North Mesquite Stallions 3-0. The lone score came with 1:17 left to play. Sophomore kicker David Sweeney saved the Scots by booting a 47 yard field goal.

The next week it was the other Mesquite school to fall prey to the Scots. This time HP scored 14 and they went on to beat the Skeeters. Bart Bevers again proved the difference as he scored both touchdowns on runs of sixteen and five yards. Joe Guffey provided the defense as he made eight tackles and intercepted two passes.

It was back to Garland for the Scots as they scooted past the Raiders of No. Garland, 14-7 in the "rain bowl." A broken foot to QB Bart Bevers from the Mesquite game propelled junior King Hall into the starting role at quarterback. Turnovers proved the difference as the Scots scored the first play following each fumble recovery. Back Jimmy Bradley was the scorer for the evening as he ran for touchdowns of 23 and 12 yards.

Another Garland score felt the punch of the Scots the following week as HP romped over the Lakeview Centennial Patriots 31-6 at Highlander Stadium. The game marked the return of QB Bart Bevers. Bevers responded with two TD passes. Jimmy Bradley and Monte Snyder scored on runs of sixty and four yards respectfully. The defense was again led by the interceptions of Joe Guffey, Tommy McElroy, and Bryan Miller.

It was now time for the 10-AAAAA showdown between HP and Wilmer-Hutchins. The Scots could not be denied as they thoroughly defeated the Eagles 40-6 to capture the district title. It was a dual offensive show this game as QB Bevers shared the spotlight with fullback John Bonnet. Each figured in two TD's. Bonnet's came on runs of one and two yards. Bevers passed for one touchdown and ran fourteen yards for a second.

The final game of the HP football season came in the bi-district playoffs against the Gophers of Grand Prairie. The Scots fell short of a comeback, losing 30-28 in Texas Stadium. It was a blunt end to a great season, but it was just that — a great season.

Junior varsity endures tough season

The Highland Park junior varsity under the tutelage of coaches Cecil Holmes, Orvil Jones, Ray Wadle, and Red Ellis led an injury plagued team to a 5-4-1 season mark.

The Scots got off to a great start by defeating the Irving MacArthur JV 38-0 in the season opener. They followed with a tie to Sherman and a win and a loss with the Denison Yellowjackets and Garland Owls respectively. In the Garland game, starting quarterback Glenn Evans broke his wrist and Fulton

Murray was called on to direct the Scots.

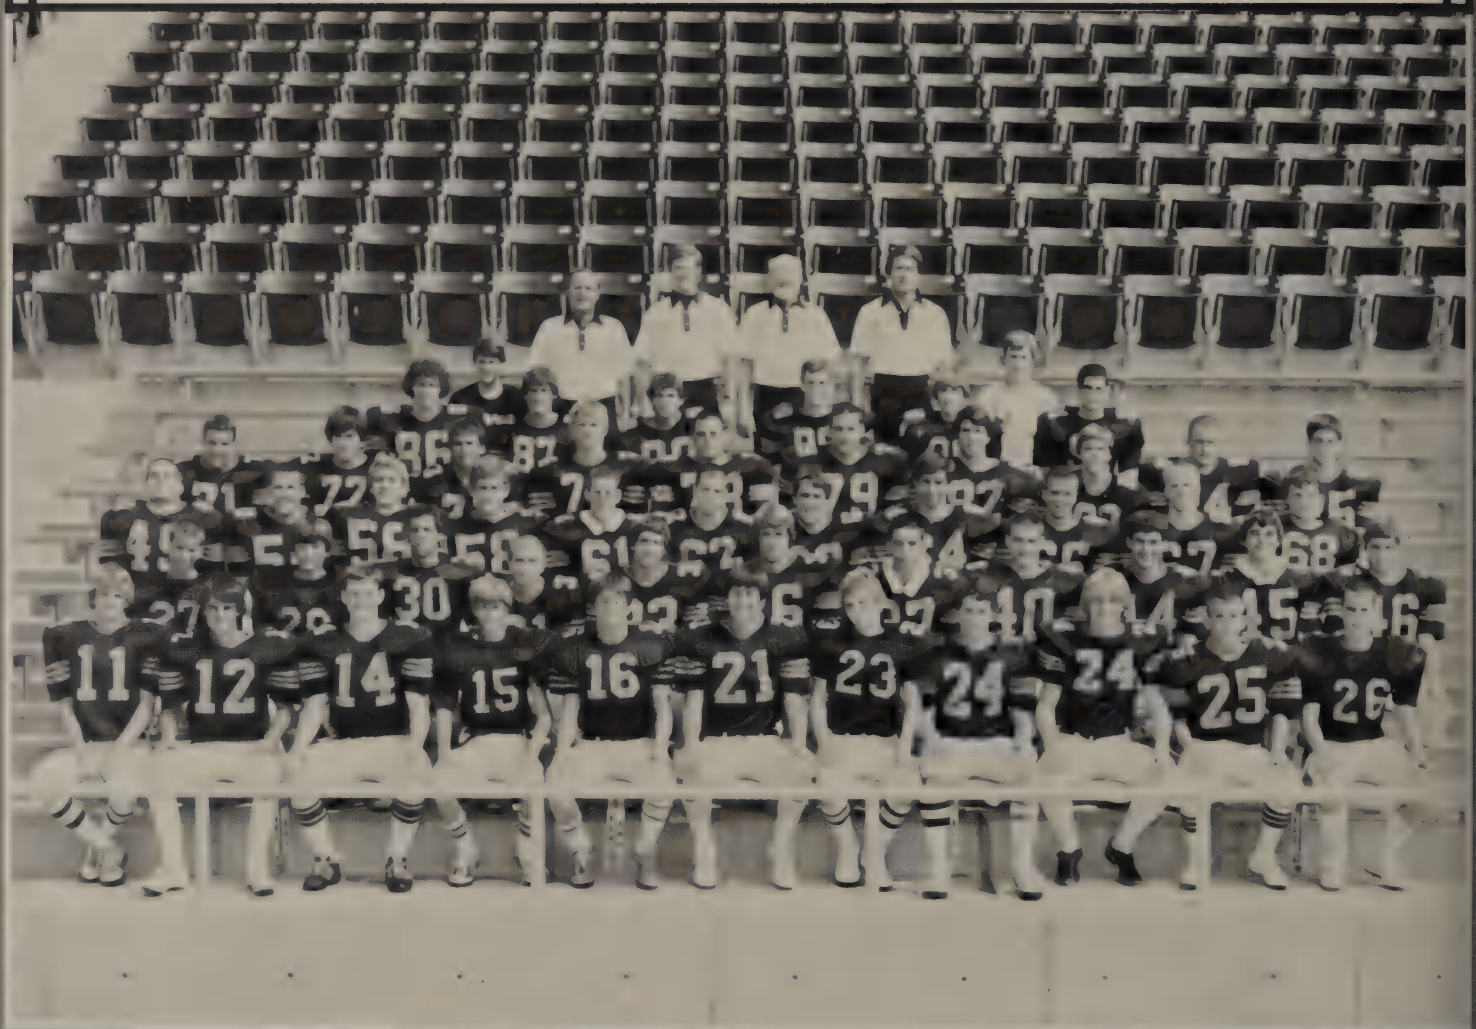

The JV then countered with a win over the Colonels of South Garland, but were defeated the next two weeks by the Mesquite high schools. The Scot attack was hampered by injuries to its offensive line. The team closed out the year with two wins and a loss with the wins over North Garland and Wilmer-Hutchins and the loss coming at the hands of Lakeview-Centennial.

Leading the Scots throughout the year were running backs Chuck Hutchison and James Faulk. Defensive leaders were Wade Baynham, David Richards, Lee Orr, and Rob Holmes. Special teams were led by punter Ward Wilson and kicker Paul Interrante.

Coach Cecil Holmes termed the season a success, commenting, "Overall the team had its ups and downs, but when everyone was healthy we could play with anybody."

The Highland Park freshman football team took the District 10-5A championship with an unblemished seven win and no loss record. The final season record was 7-3. Coaching the freshmen were head coach Ronnie Van Hooser, A. Hawes, and Richard Bohac. Providing team leadership for the team were the captains Colin Durham, George Seay, Hank Bevers, and John Stollenwerck.

After losing their three non-district games, the freshman Scots rolled past their next seven competitors. The string of victories included impressive 28-0 wins over the North Mesquite Stallions and the Garland Owls.

Leading players for the team included Stollenwerck, Durham, Seay, and running back James Knoll. Defensive mainstays for the team included John Presley, Matt Johnston, David Turner, and Jeff McKinney. The kicking chores were done by Wayne Clements.

Frosh Scots claim district championship

Roundballers struggle with tough season

In one of the toughest districts in the state, the Highland Park varsity basketball team had another successful year under the direction of head coach Bo Snowden. The Scots had a record of 14-4 going into district play January 8, and notched a 4-3 record through the first half of district play including a heartbreaking loss to the district leading North Mesquite Stallions.

Seniors Steve Lyon and Billy Delatour led the Scots this season as co-captains and paced the Scots in the Austin Tournament, which they won for the second time in 26 years.

Leading scorers for the Scots this season were senior Lyon and junior John Vandermeer. Senior Dodge Carter unfortunately injured his wrist early in the season and stained what might have been an excellent season. Other outstanding players included seniors Ben Lange and Jim Yoder and juniors Dave Reichert and Bart Showalter.

Junior varsity "hangs tough" during season

The 1981-82 junior varsity basketball team had a rough year in District 10-5A. The Scots did, though, post a 10-4 non-district record, winning the Highland Park JV Tournament and closing out non-district play with a loss to Lewisville on January 5.

Newcomer Scott Florence, Patrick Jordan, and Mike Lucas, all sophomores, started consistently for the young Scots. Freshmen Stephen White, Malcolm Showalter, and Tie Sosnowski added a twist to the Scot lineup by becoming the first freshmen ever to play JV ball. The JV cagers posted an unfortunate 1-6 record in the first half of district but came on strong at the close of the season by beating Garland 61-49 and South Garland 73-63 at home

Globetrotter?: Mike Lucas makes another great move for the JV.

Blue and Gold frosh teams work on skills

The freshman "Blue" team coached by Ray Wadle hung tough through the first half of district, canning both South Garland and North Mesquite. Leading scorers throughout the season included Glenn Mack, David Humann, and Kurt Rodegast.

Ron Van Hooser's "Gold" team ran through some tough times in the first half of district. Mike Manicom, Scott Davis, and Chuck Peters all led the "Gold" Scots during the season.

Cross country competes well during season

The boys' cross country team continued its winning ways with a successful season this year. The runners were led by senior captain Parnell McCarter and guided by coach Jim Mouser.

The boys ran very well in all their meets, usually coming in second or third place. Continually leading the rest of the team by placing in all of the meets were senior Parnell McCarter, junior Scott Durham, and sophomore Mike Lucas.

In the District meet, held in November, the Highland Park team came in third overall. As usual, Parnell McCarter came in ahead of all the other Scots, with a sixth place finish. Mike Lucas placed and Scott Durham also gained points for the Scots. Although no HP runners qualified to move on past the District meet, the boys had a good season.

Super endurance: Parnell McCarter grits it out to the finish.

Lady runners return home state champs

The girls' cross country team, under the guidance of coach Jim Mouser, had an outstanding season. The "awesome" runners breezed through the district and regional championships and went on to capture the state title on Saturday, November 14.

The Scots devastated every team they came up against. At the state meet, the second place team was 53 points behind them. Running on the varsity team were senior captain Anne Beall, juniors Wendy Irwin and Karen Kessler, sophomores Amy Taylor, Jeanie Smith, and Michele Medlock, and freshman sensations Libby and Kathy Lumpkin.

At the state meet in Georgetown, Wendy Irwin led the Scots with a second place finish in a time of 11:11. Libby Lumpkin finished ninth with a time of 11:44. Next came Kathy Lumpkin and Jeanie Smith, placing 36th and 37th, respectively. Karen Kessler came in 46th, and Anne Beall and Amy Taylor came in sixth and seventh among the Scots.

Obviously, all the hard work the runners put in all season was well worth the effort. Next year will hopefully bring another championship for the team, as all of the members except Anne Beall will return to defend their title.

Almost there: Kathy Lumpkin and Jeanie Smith near the finish at the state meet.

Team captains lead runners during season

The boys' track team began their season under the leadership of coaches Mr. Richard Bohac and Mr. Cecil Holmes. Co-captains Gary Turner and Duncan Bremner led the team through workouts at Germany Park.

Standouts on the team included Parnell McCarter in the two-mile run, Gary Turner in the hurdles, Trez Patrick in the quarter mile, Scott Durham in the half mile, Duncan Bremner in the quarter mile, and Monte and Mike Snyder in the sprint relay. The district meet was held in April. Senior Jeff Hamlin commented, "We worked hard and had a good year."

Lady runners look forward to big season

Captained by seniors Mary Van Ellis and Katie Hutchison, the girls' track team worked out every day at Park A in order to prepare for meets. Jim Mouser coached the team. Most of the girls began working out during the fall semester, although the season didn't begin until March.

The team was aided by runners who competed on the state champion cross country team. Many injuries plagued the girls at the beginning of the season, yet the team was still one of the strongest in the region.

The team ran in many meets, including ones at Richardson and Mesquite, as well as hosting its own meet. The district meet was held in April.

Baseball, hot dogs, apple pie: Naoya enjoys the all-American sport.

What a bright light: Scott Sessions shields his face from the rays.

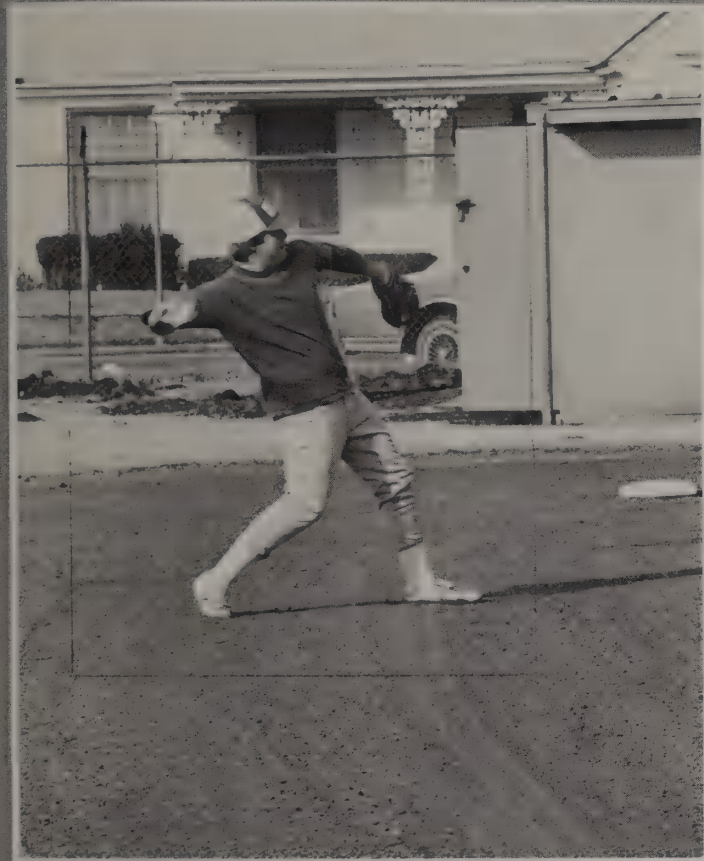

The varsity baseball team, under the guidance of coach Jim Hawes, had a tough act to follow after the success of last year's team.

Five returning All-District players led the team through the season. They were first baseman Bill Hodgkinson, center fielder, left fielder Scott Sessions, third baseman Kyle Ford, and pitcher Dodge Carter.

The Scots started working out in the second semester in order to prepare for the season. The first scrimmage game for the team was on February 17, and the District opener was on March 1. The Scot's toughest games were against North Garland on April 6 and against Lakeview Centennial on April 8. District playoff games were held March 10-15, followed by Regionals and State.

SOCCER

Season brings victories for soccer Scots

The 1982 boys' soccer team entered district play after a short pre-season, winning seven of the first nine games. The two losses were to North Mesquite, HP's toughest competitor, and to South Garland. The South Garland battle was a clear upset since the Scots dominated the entire game. The final 0-1 score was decided by a disputable call made by the referee which resulted in a penalty shot for S. Garland. The Scots, however, smashed the majority of their opponents.

Beginning his fourth year as head soccer coach, Dave Fricke led the varsity team through pre-season training and designed its game strategies. The JV team played under the guidance of volunteer coach Stephen Ramsey, while varsity captains Lang Aston, Richard Reece, and Clay Kennedy displayed their leadership. Lang Aston was the key defensive player, and goalkeeper John Patterson was instrumental in many shut-out games for the Scots. The team's main strength, however, was in the midfield with the effective crossing and shooting abilities of the halfbacks.

The varsity team acquired two new players this year: Dwight Coffey and James Faulk. Dwight, a junior, moved to the U.S. from Brazil where he had been playing soccer for five years. James was a sophomore from Richardson High School. Both players made significant contributions to the offensive machine. The varsity Scots made it to the district playoffs again for the fourth year in a row, and played very well. The JV team was not quite as successful, yet their job was commendable.

Captains lead soccer girls to many wins

The 1981-82 girls' soccer team was under the awesome leadership of captains Laura Howard, Mary Huck, and Susan Reed. District teams included North Mesquite, Mesquite, North and South Garland, Lakeview-Centennial, and Hillcrest. The Scots got off to a great start with four consecutive shut-outs over Mesquite, Lakeview, and both Garland teams. The girls' toughest competition came against North Mesquite, a rivalry rekindled when the Scots met the Stallions once again in the district playoffs. The Scots all enjoyed an outstanding season with Coach Mindy Simmons' coaching tips. Outstanding players included Frances Blackwell, Sharon Bradley, and Missy Salomon.

State ranked players lead school netters

Preparing for the strenuous spring tournament schedule under the coaching of Mrs. Kay Kyle, the HP tennis team participated in several fall matches in addition to off-season running.

Led by 1981-82 captains Leigh Bywaters and Shane Read, the Scot netters captured second place at the regional team tournament with Wichita Falls High School taking first honors. By placing in the top four at the tournament, the team advanced to the state tourney.

This year's state team tournament was hosted in San Antonio in late October. Plagued by injuries, the team finished thirteenth in the state. Top honors went to Abilene Cooper High School.

State-ranked players Shane Read and Michael Carney led the team into metro play against such schools as Plano, L. D. Bell, Richardson, and Duncanville during the spring.

The year's work for some players culminated in the spring district tournament, scheduled for April. The top two girls' and boys' singles, in addition to the top two doubles teams, played for district titles in April. From there they hoped to advance to the regional, and possibly state tournaments.

SWIMMING

HP Blue Wave participates in championships

The 1981-82 Blue Wave was led by captains Susan Clarke, Julie Coxe, Clinton Wood, and returning All-Americans Kim Carson and Mike Heath.

The Scot swimmers opened the season in November at the SMU Relays. The Girls swam to a third place finish, while the boys finished fifth. Next up for the Scots was the Annual Pre-T.I.S.C.A. Invitational where the boys finished seventh and the girls brought home second place honors. February took freshman Paige Wilbur, sophomores Katie Carson and Page Gunter, and seniors

Kim Carson, Elizabeth Miller, Mike Heath, and Karl Rathjen to Houston to participate in the T.I.S.C.A. State Championships. The girls came away with a ninth place finish while the boys followed closely behind, finishing tenth.

On February 25, the Blue Wave hosted the District Meet. From there the Scot swimmers advanced to the Region II Championships at Trinity High School on March 12-13. The season climaxed two weeks later when the Scots traveled to the State Meet in Austin.

Early hours, hard workouts perfect routine

This year's gymnastics team did very well after coming back from a competition season without a coach. The team's new coach was Mark Sherman who helped the team make much progress.

The gymnasts made a good showing in their first meet against L. D. Bell, who was ranked fifth in the nation. They lost by only eleven points and the team was showing great improvements.

Team members arrived at the gym at 7:30 a.m. every day for workouts, including holidays. The workouts lasted from two to two and one half hours.

Men's events in order of competition are as follows: floor exercise, pommel horse, rings, vault, parallel bars, and high bar. Ladies events are vault, uneven bars, balance beam, and floor exercise.

All gymnasts worked toward competing in the state meet, which was held in Fort Worth in early April.

For the Highland Park Golf Teams, the year of 1981-1982 looks to be filled with success. The teams show great potential to compete for district or post district titles.

In the Fall season, the H.P. Golfers played extremely well. The boys brought home two second places and one third. The girls had an outstanding fall season with two firsts and one second place finish. During the off-season, about the end of November through January, Coach Williams pushed the team to try and gain an edge over other district teams. The golfers played or practiced on every day that the weather would permit. On days that the team was unable to play, the boys kept up their basketball or football skills at neighborhood parks.

As the Spring season arrived, H.P. Golfers got back in full swing. Early February is crucial to the teams' district play. The boys' district tournament is on April 12 and 13, at Mesquite Municipal. The girls' team faces district on April 7 at the same course. Other than district, both the girls and boys have many other tournaments to prepare for regional and state play.

The Highland Park Boys' Invitational was the Fall at Sherill Park. The Highland Park Girls' Invitational will be a two day tournament held on March 8 and 9 at Mesquite Municipal. Two road trips are to be taken. The boys travel to Austin on March 3, 4, and 5. The girls will have an opportunity to travel to Saledo for a tournament.

Heading the teams is Coach Coy Williams. The boys are: seniors — Paul Mitchell and John Hall; juniors — Greg Allison (captain), Bill Ligon, Bobby Mighell, and William Thornhill; sophomores — Robert McBee, Scott Slayton, Tony Faulkner, Richard Emery, Brad Hatcher, Sammy Wilbur, Tommy Carter, and Roger Voss; freshmen — Stuart Campbell, and Todd Wills. The girls' team consists of: seniors — Margie Rush and Katherine Schooler; juniors — Tricia Bell (captain), Margaret Thompson and Dianne Rembert; Sophomores — Blakney Boggs, Shannon Strother and Laura Jones; freshmen — Courtney Bobbitt and Kathy Horn.

These dedicated golfers are looking forward to successful Spring seasons.

Three players recognized as All-District

The volleyball team had an up and down season. Led by varsity captain Amy Duncan, junior varsity captain Laurie Hinson, and coach Mindy Simmons, the girls faced many tough opponents.

The toughest games that the volleyballers played were against DeSoto in preseason, which they won, and a district game against South Garland, which they lost.

Several players were honored with All-District mention. Senior Renee

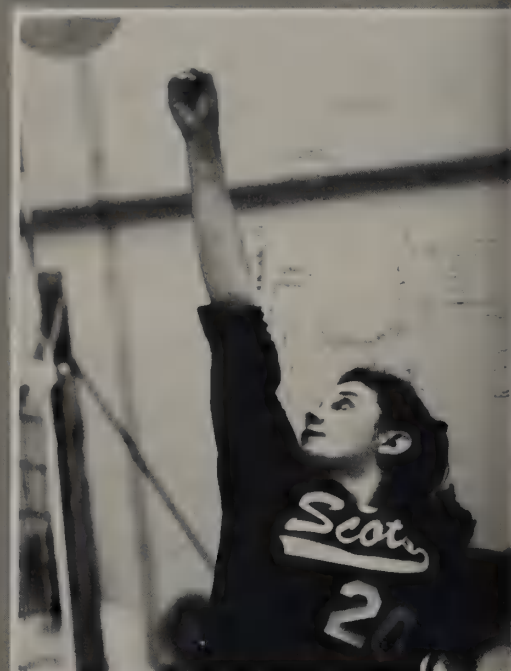

Farinella was named First Team All-District, and was also recognized as an All-Tournament player in the DeSoto Lancaster tournament. Amy Duncan received Second Team All-District honors, and junior Julie Branch was named Honorable Mention All-District. Other outstanding contributors to the team included varsity players Blai Gibbs and Melissa Daniels and junior varsity players Sharon Bradley, Elizabeth Schooler, Tiffany Slayton, and Amy Sexton.

INTRAMURALS

Tournaments give students chance to play

Once again intramurals competition was popular around Highland Park. Students competed in basketball, table tennis, and badminton intramurals. Competition was either on teams or individually.

In charge of the tournaments were physical education teachers Mrs. Kay Kyle and Mrs. Elaine Wheat. They set up the matches, which were usually played in the morning before school.

In girls' basketball competition, Karen Neal's team was the winner. Team members included Martha Adam, Kaari Molsen, Erica Scholder, Amy Duncan, Cari Cheesborough, Elise Pettinger, Jennifer Gifford, and Lisa DuBose.

Ping pong intramurals provided early morning exercise for the competitors. In the 9th and 10th grade division, boys' singles was won by Hill Collins, with David Coleman placing second. Long Dang captured first place in the 11th and 12th division and Thanh Trieu was second. In boys' doubles, Doug Bracken and David Coleman won while Long Dang and Charles Walters came in second. For the girls, Marnie Williams placed first in singles and Barbara Barns placed second. Jennifer Henderson and Nancy Truitt won the doubles competition and Pam Patton and Hilary Smith were runners up.

In badminton competition, senior Kaari Molsen blasted her opponents to capture the girls' singles title. Freshmen Carla Beard and Caroline Waggoner were the victors in doubles. Boys' singles was won by David Rose. Rose and Scott Higginbotham teamed up to win boys' doubles.

Basketball winners: M. Adam, K. Molsen, E. Scholder, A. Duncan, C. Cheesborough, E. Pettinger, K. Neal, J. Gifford, L. DuBose.

Ping pong winners: Marnie Williams, Long Dang.

The 1981-82 school year began with Student Council elected officers Jonathan Ladd, President; Blake Bernet, Vice-President; Laurie Brown, Secretary, and Donna Raley, Treasurer. Six seniors were appointed to the Executive Committee. They were: Jane Brenner, Holly McIntire, Karl Rathjen, Scot Sigler, Electra Thomas, and Jim Yoder. In addition to these appointed seniors was the rest of the Executive Committee.

The annual Howdy Dance, sponsored by the SC, was held in the new All-Sports Facility with a disc jockey providing the music. An added attraction this year was a carnival with prizes and games. During the dance the Super Scot Spies were announced along with the Friendliest boy and girl from each class.

As Homecoming approached, the Student Council was busy ordering decorations, contracting a band, and running Homecoming elections. The dance was held on Saturday, October 18, with the theme "Could It Be Magic." The band was "Money" from Austin, and Michelle Aldridge was crowned Homecoming Queen.

Football caravans, organized by Donna Raley, were continued and remained popular. Laurie Brown, the woman behind the scenes in putting together the Clan, did an outstanding job. The cover was designed by senior Cari Cheesborough.

The Student Council once again sponsored the nominations for the TACT, DAR Good Citizenship, and Golden Herald Awards, as well as other elections.

Due to a lack of interest, the Super Scot Show was cancelled for the first time in many years. The SC officers were disappointed in the apathetic response to the show.

Once again the Student Council had an outstanding year with the fine dedication exemplified by sponsors Cecil Holmes and Ruth Ann Vineyard.

Officers, staff work hard on layouts, ads

Highlander co-editors Stacy Jordan and Marsa Munroe began preparing for the 1982 yearbook in August when they attended a journalism workshop at SMU. There they learned the latest developments in yearbook styles and publications.

In October, after underclassmen pictures were taken, associate co-editors Tricia Bell and Jennifer Simmons experienced the trauma of the dreaded deadline.

Todd Foster, as photography editor, probed the HP campus looking for the most candid shots to take of the student body. Other Highlander photographers such as Jeff Hamlin, Craig Simmons, and Lay Bell were kept busy, also, taking various pictures.

Co-business managers Mary Van Ellis and Kathy Rott busied themselves selling Highlanders and mailing out letters and summer supplements. They also organized the ad section of the yearbook.

With the help of Ms. Katherine Carpenter as sponsor, and business assistant Miss Gladys Bradshaw, the Highlander staff succeeded in producing a fine yearbook.

Bagpipe Staff celebrates its anniversary

This was a special year for the Bagpipe and all who were involved with the paper's production. The Bagpipe celebrated its fiftieth birthday. A special issue was the paper's present. The Golden Anniversary issue appeared on March eighth. Feature stories were written throughout the year as a tribute to the paper's birthday.

The Bagpipe ran stories this year covering HP's recognition as one of the top twelve high schools in the nation and presented the new image of the HP band.

The usual HP problems, such as school prayer, dipping, senior apathy, and parking problems also made the print. Brad Beutel and Blair Gibbs led the editorial staff as co-editors. Readers always looked forward to their monthly columns. Controversial letters to the editors flourished, while the editors came back with some interesting rebuttals.

The news editor John Christian, with the help of his assistant Rose Stocks, kept the Scots informed of important and upcoming events. David Frase and Missy Compton as feature editors probed into such things as movie reviews and the latest in the rock and roll world. Business Managers Margie Rush and Ann Stansbury kept the paper in financially excellent terms. The ad sellers did an outstanding job this year and twice a two page ad supplement appeared with the paper. Ms. Gladys Bradshaw helped with the business deals. Mrs. Rayburn Meyers oversaw all of the activities of the paper.

The Bagpipe enjoyed a Christmas party where gag gifts were distributed. The staff joined the Highlander workers at the end of the year for their annual publications picnic.

Happy fiftieth birthday Bagpipe. Can't wait to see you in 2032 for your centennial.

Boards create special edition, new leafbook

Celebrating its thirtieth anniversary this year, the Tartan came out with a special edition. Instead of the traditional bound magazine style, the Tartan was a leafbook with loose pages that could be mailed or framed. They were distributed on March 10 at Open House.

The Tartan, published annually by HP students, was made up of three boards. The literary board, sponsored by Ms. Doris Warburton, wrote poems and other selections and voted on which pieces would go in the magazine.

The illustration board, sponsored by Ms. Paula Duckworth, drew pictures to illustrate the literature, and the art board was in charge of the special art section with the help of sponsor Mr. James Carter. The Tartan also had an international section this year for poems in foreign languages.

The 1982 Tartan chairman was senior Constance Adams. Jane Brenner was chairman of the art board, and Marsa Munroe was chairman of the illustration board assisted by co-chairman Mary Haviland.

Top students selected to be club members

In the fall the National Honor Society initiated 31 new students. Each student was selected on the basis of his grade point average and teachers' evaluation of scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

After the fall initiation, Karen Neal held a Mexican dinner party at her home, and several of the members attended.

During the Christmas holiday the club sponsored an underprivileged family in South Dallas and brought them Christmas cheer. The officers of the club commented on how well the club has responded to the needy people of Dallas.

This year's officers of the National Honor Society were: Karl Rathjen, President; Margie Rush, Vice President; Mary Huck, Secretary; and Richard Reece, Treasurer. Miss Cathy Orr was the club sponsor.

Round Table members talk about issues

The Round Table club is a discussion group that met twice a month to argue about controversial issues facing the United States today. The president of the club this year was Todd Foster and the recording secretary was Pepe Rubi.

Every other Tuesday the group met after school in sponsor Mrs. Sheila Douthit's room. Some of the topics discussed included President Reagan's economic policy, abortion, and the quality of education. The club kicked off the year with its annual breakfast at White Rock Lake.

You're out of your mind! Round Table members never seem to agree on a controversial issue.

Leo Club has annual dance, many activities

The Leo Club, under the new sponsorship of Mr. Richard Bohac, planned many exciting activities.

During club period they had organized meetings as well as songs performed by Mr. Smith and Dr. Puckett. The club donated money to Coach Wild and his wife as well as supporting the schools' adopted family for one month.

In January, they held their annual bowling tournament. The Leo Club Dance took place in March and they held a garage sale at the end of school.

Officers of the club were: Jeff Walter, president; Bob Berry, vice-president; Tommy Hughston, secretary; and Bruce Collins, treasurer. John Hall was tail twister. Other members of the board were Mike Bass, Craig Bailey, T. D. Briggs, Val Joe Walker, John Poston, Cole Ramey, and Jeff Fronterhouse.

FCA chapter largest sized group in U.S.

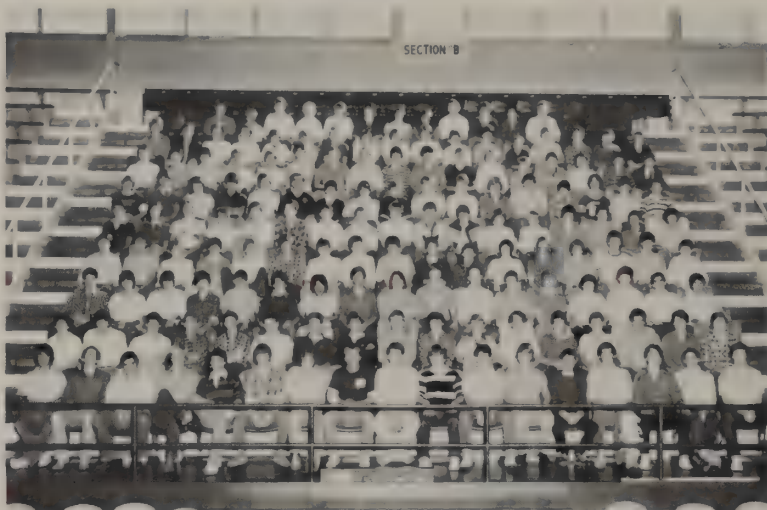

The boys' chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes grew to be the largest high school chapter in the United States. Due to the large membership, the club was split into two divisions, one composed of freshmen and sophomores and the other made up of juniors and seniors.

Tom Landry and Scott Smith were among the guests who spoke to the members about Christian influence in athletics. During other bi-monthly meetings, members discussed their relationships with Christ.

Due to the increase in members, eight officers were elected, four from each division. The officers for the junior and senior division were: Jimmy Bradley, president; Bart Bevers, vice-president; Walt Sosnowski, secretary; and John Bonnet, treasurer. The officers for the freshman and sophomore division were: Mike Lucas, president; John Presley, vice-president; Wade Baynham, secretary; and Greg Adair, treasurer. Christian club enjoys hearing guests speak

Girls' Fellowship of Christian Athletes continues to increase in membership each year. The meetings started off with the election of officers, who are Lisa Dolan, President; Mary Huck, Vice-President; Libby Bernet, treasurer; and Blair Gibbs, Chaplain.

The club enjoyed listening to chosen speakers who discussed the importance of Christ in one's life. Committees were formed to help nursing homes, the Childrens' Medical Center and to contribute to a needy family.

With the help of the sponsor, Mindy Simmons, the club succeeded in bringing some happiness to other people, as well as realizing the relationship one can have with Christ.

New sponsors, many changes help group

The 1981-82 Spirit Committee, headed by Mary Washburne, Amanda Gaston, and Mike McCarthy, had a great year. The Committee was also under the leadership of new sponsors Mrs. Bardo and Mrs. Sargent. One change these leaders brought about was a new uniform.

To raise money, the club sold bumper stickers. Some of its duties included decorating the gym for pep rallies and making the run through banners for the football games. Every Thursday night during football season and the night before the basketball and all sports pep rallies, the Spirit Committee held a workcrew in order to decorate the gym.

Military Club strives toward new rifle team

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Dave McElwee, the Military Service Corps had a very active year. This year's group, with twenty-one members, was the biggest in the corps' history.

The corps is a service organization for students in the school who are interested in the military. Among the club's responsibilities were raising the flag everyday and helping with fire drills.

Activities during meetings included speakers from the Marine Corps, the Navy, and the Coast Guard. Outside of school, the club practiced marksmanship every Thursday afternoon at the rifle range. The club also went to Tyler, Texas, January 30, with the Marine Corps and fired several one hundred rounds with M-16 rifles.

In March they planned a tour of naval and marine facilities and in April they visited Carswell Air Force Base. The club also had plans to visit Fort Hood.

Among the objectives of the club are to have the organization grow until we can eventually have a ROTC program at HP again. The Corps also hopes to develop a competitive rifle team and a high precision color guard for the school.

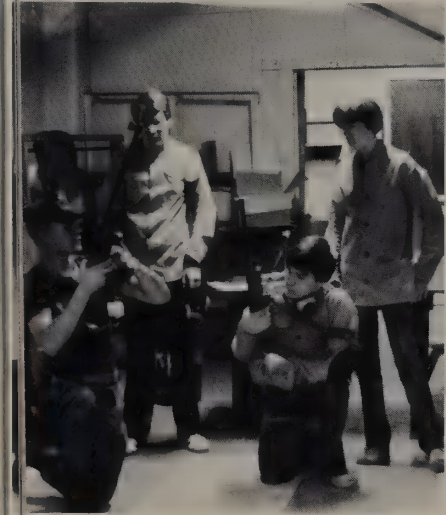

Mr. McElwee stated that there has been a "marked change in attitudes from students in the last three to four years relating to the military," and he predicts that within two years the Military Service Corps will be one of the biggest clubs in the high school.

Military Club members: Mr. McElwee, C. Smith, B. Lankford, B. Stephens, S. Bunten, T. Weaver, M. Pollard.

Pay attention: Military Club members learn how to use weapons during a club meeting.

Ready, ... aim: Club member practices shooting a M-16 rifle with the help of some cadets.

Two members reach state competition

This year's Speech Team, with new sponsor Mrs. Loyola, stayed busy practicing and participating in weekend tournaments. Team members competed in debate and individual events. Debate consisted of the following categories: oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and L-D debate. The various individual events were dramatic interpretation, humorous interpret action, duet acting, poetry reading, and prose reading. Two speech team members qualified for the state tournament held in Houston during spring break. They were senior Janay Ferguson, who qualified in humorous and dramatic interpretation, as well as duet acting, and freshman Wendy Kopp who qualified in oratory debate.

Speech Team officers were Stephanie Jackson, president; Kyle Krebs, vice-president; Beth Barker, secretary; and Liz Larson, historian.

Key Clubbers sell posters, hold big dance

With strong student leadership and the sponsorship of Mr. Don Brown, the Key Club had an exciting school year.

This year's club ended the tradition of selling Key Club mugs by donating cases of them to "Wild Night" benefitting Coach Wild of MMS. They also had plans to donate a cord of wood to the auction.

The club had good leadership that worked toward getting the club organized. Officers were Brad Beutel, president; Shane Read, vice-president; David Glass, secretary; and Duff Smith, treasurer. There was also a board of ten club members who met to decide on the club's activities.

Among the activities planned for the year were a Key Club Dance and a breakfast with Lamar Hunt as speaker. The club made money by selling the new Highland Park posters.

Hi-Lites girls enjoy ballets, fashion shows

The Hi-Lites Club got off to a start this year with the annual Big Sister/Little Sister picnic at Goar Park on August 23. At this get-together the freshman girls had a chance to get to know some of the older high school girls. On October 5 the Mother/Daughter Tea was held at the home of Day Dickinson.

The club sponsored two dances this year. For the first, on November 21, everyone "went Hawaiian." The theme of the second Hi-Lites dance was "King of the Jungle." It was at this dance that Bob Berry received the honor of being Hi-Lites King.

The service club, which met every other Wednesday, expanded its welfare program this year. The girls adopted a family, organized a Christmas party for the mentally retarded, made Christmas stockings for day care children, and made Easter baskets for children who otherwise would have had no visit from the Easter Bunny.

Susan Reed led the Hi-Lites Club as president for 1981-82. Other officers were Day Dickenson, Tammy Armstrong, Cathy Clements, Stephanie Jones, Kilby Greeves, Anne Christian, Anne Beall, Claire Squibb, Dina Jones, Laura Bryan, and Tricia Rippey. The sponsors were Mrs. Linda Raya and Mrs. Pam Bush.

Lads and Lassies

The Lads and Lassies choir was very active in 1981-82. They performed many concerts and took part in fundraising events.

Leading the choir were officers Laura Bryan, President; Liz Larson, Vice-President; Karen Cummings, Recording Secretary; Amy Duncan and Scott Jordan, Treasurers; Mary Buntan, Historian; Jennifer Carter and Lisa Hosford, Librarians; and Paul Taylor, Riser Chairman.

The Park Cities Rotary Club and several country clubs enjoyed concerts performed by Lads and Lassies. The choir also sold things to raise money for the spring trip, including popcorn, poinsettias, wrapping paper, Christmas ornaments, and cheese.

In the fall, choir director Mr. Don Waugh selected 28 candidates to try out for All-Region choir. The top 14 people in each section sang in the All-Region choir and the top eight advanced to All-Area auditions. There, the top four in each section became eligible to audition for the All-State choir on January 9.

The cast of this year's musical, The Boyfriend, was primarily Lads and Lassies members. Those with leading roles included Mary Mills as Polly, sophomore Josh Larson as Tony, John Christian as Percivale Brown, and Karen Cummings as Madame Dubonnet. Junior Stephanie Jackson was cast as Maisie and Monte Smith played the role of Bobby. The Boyfriend was presented in late March and early April.

In the spring, Lads and Lassies performed in a spring concert, went on a choir trip, and had their annual banquet.

Choir fills halls with caroling at Yuletide

The 1981-82 school year proved to be a busy and exciting one for the all-girl Revelaires choir. This year's officers were Kelly Franklin, President; Lisa Dolan, Vice-President; Jane Brenner, Secretary; Sharon Krueger, Treasurer; and Debbie Armstrong and Diane Brandes, Librarians.

Revelaires members participated in many activities during the year. To raise funds for a spring trip, they sold poinsettias, popcorn, wrapping paper, cheese, and Christmas ornaments. The choir performed a concert at Highland Park Methodist Church in the fall, and entertained another group with their annual spring concert.

During the week that school was dismissed for Christmas vacation, Revelaires went caroling. This was followed by a party at Leigh Martin's house at which gag gifts were exchanged.

On a typical day, class time was spent singing and practicing sight reading. In the winter, the girls started practicing their solos for the UIL competition which was held on February 6.

Several Revelaires members were actively involved with this year's musical, The Boyfriend. Those with parts included Sylvia De La Torre and Robbie McClung. Nancy Woods was head prompter and many other choir members participated by being on various crews.

Highlandaires sing, prepare for spring fun

During the school year 1981-1982, the Highlandaire Choir participated in many activities. They elected Robert Trent for President, Tass Waterston for Librarian, Kim Allen for Secretary, and Krissy Shelton for Treasurer.

The Highlandaires' first fund raising campaign was to sell cheese barrels. Around Christmas, the members sold ornaments and poinsettias. Also, they caroled to the elderly people in our neighborhood. The money raised went to their spring trip, as well as to the musical "The Boyfriend."

Many members of the Highlandaire Choir enjoyed working on the musical. Chuck Smith and Ray McClung had speaking parts, while others sang in the chorus or worked in the crew.

During class, the Highlandaires sang and practiced sight reading. All of their hard work was recognized at the U.I.L. competition on February 6.

Band receives new directors, more members

Mr. Don Thoede, a new face at HP, along with Mr. Dave Brodnax, took the directors' positions in the Highlander Band this year. Mr. Thoede came to HP from Rockdale, Texas. He enjoys spending time with his nine-year-old daughter, and listening to music of all kinds.

Under the direction of two men, our band has increased greatly in number. It promises to be even larger in later years, because both Mr. Thoede and Mr. Brodnax teach at the Middle School, where the kids know them well.

During football season the band helped boost Scot Spirit by marching at the games. In late October the band got First Division at the UIL Marching Band contest.

After marching season, the band, in combination with the MMS Band, performed a Christmas concert at the Middle School.

In the Spring, our band competed in a UIL contest, where they reached for a level of excellence in individual, section and ensemble playing.

The major band officers included David Frase, President; James Toole, Vice President; and Mary Moore, Secretary.

The orchestra played in All-Regions competitions and the following were named as All-Region Orchestra: Adam Newman, Robert Dysart, December Blair, Hilary Babcock, Allison Peeler, Larissa Dobrei, Stephanie Millard, John Rott, and Bess Masterson. Robbie Leftwich was named to All-State Orchestra. In the spring many members competed in UIL competition.

The H.P. orchestra played for faculty parties at Christmas and also for the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Thespian club attends plays, performs skits

Through the year, Thespians experienced successful encounters with their drama-related activities. The club's sponsors, Mrs. Raya and Mr. Day, along with the officers, President, Paul Taylor; Vice-President, John Christian; Secretary-Treasurer, Amy Duncan; Clerk, Dana Jackson; Historian, Monte Smith; Senior Representative, Jeff Blain; Junior Representative, Stephanie Jackson; and Honorary Officer, Janay Ferguson, worked continuously to make this year profitable and rewarding for the Thespians.

Most Thespian members attended plays and various shows in order to gain "points," (merits which are necessary for entrance into the International Thespian Club). Banquets were held in the fall and in the spring, and members with a certain amount of "points" were initiated into the club. In December, a select group of Thespians traveled to San Antonio to attend the State Thespian Convention, where workshops were held demonstrating some technical aspects of theatre arts.

Thespian meetings usually consisted of speakers who discussed general acting ideas and previewed upcoming plays or theatre activities. Other Thespian activities included the annual Thespian Show, visits to professional productions, Christmas shows, and sponsoring a family at different times during the year.

H.P. Lassies play, perform at competitions

Highland Park's Lassies added much to the Scot football games by performing during halftime as well as at pep rallies. The bagpipers also spent time in several competitions and performances outside of school.

The Lassies traveled to Salado, Texas, where they competed at the annual Gathering of the Clans. The pipers performed, while the dancers also entered their part of the competition.

The Lassies also participated in UIL competition. A pipe ensemble made up of a few of the girls competed, as well as the dancers. Those who earned a one in the regional competition went on to the state competition held later in the year.

The Lassies made several personal appearances for small parties and businesses.

Lassie officers for 1981-1982 were Maria Sogandares, Pipe Major; Holly McGuire, Pipe Sergeant; Susan Hay and Rhonda Gregg, Pipe Corporals; and Shannon Houston, Dance Major.

Lassies officers: Rhonda Gregg, Holly McGuire, Susan Hay, Maria Sogandares.

The 1981-82 Whiz Kids had a successful tournament season this year. The team members participated in the Whiz Quiz Tournaments held at Dallas Baptist College. They played various area schools in matches using a single elimination method.

The four starters in team competition, as well as officers for the club, were senior Parnell McCarter, president and team captain; senior Jim Kasichke, vice-president; junior Cecilia Yu, secretary; and junior Kyle Krebs, treasurer. Other members of the team who participated in matches were senior Steve Gwinn, a two year member, junior Craig Lawrence, sophomore Tass Waterston, and junior Lisa Crook.

In December the Whiz Kids had a match against the teachers and won a hard-fought match.

Club officers plan party for new members

Students who have served on a publication's staff for at least one semester, have been recommended by their sponsor, and are in the upper third of their class are eligible for membership in Quill and Scroll. Quill and Scroll is an honorary literary society sponsored by Mrs. Reyburn Myers.

Officers of the club were Stacy Jordan, President; Carol Drake, Vice-President; Margaret Stansbury, Secretary; Marsa Munroe, Treasurer; Donna Raley, Historian; and Marjorie Rush, Social Chairman.

The officers planned a party in the spring for the new initiates. These new members received a pin and a membership card at the Publications Picnic. An added benefit of joining the club was a free subscription to Quill and Scroll Magazine, an informative national journalism publication. Jonathan Ladd commented that he found the magazine very helpful and enjoyable to read.

Once again the American Field Service club organized two major events this year: the popular Valentine's carnation sale, and the annual International Day in October. On October 28, AFS students from other Dallas schools visited Highland Park for the day, attending classes, and for an evening of fun at a dinner party held in their honor.

The club was led by President Lisa Hosford; Vice-Presidents, Carolyn Brown and Kim Newsome; Secretary, Kim Coffin; and historian, Elise Pettinger, who along with sponsors Mrs. Pam Bush, Mrs. Priscilla Fish, and Miss Cathy Orr, all worked together to make this a great year for AFS students Jeanne Verster and Naoya Mitake. Jeanne, from South Africa, was hosted by the Gilbert Browns, and Naoya, from Japan, was hosted by the Fred Kahns. Both students encountered many new experiences which have become valuable memories for both themselves and also for many students at HP.

Chess players hold matches, develop game

Mrs. Carol Sets sponsored the Chess Club this year. Club membership grew quite a bit as more students became interested in the game.

The interest club met every other Wednesday during club period. Members divided up into teams and played until a single winner was named. Club members worked on their game and helped each other with chess strategy.

Chess Club officers were John Hammond, president; Abby Schonier, vice-president; and David Long, secretary-treasurer.

The Distributive Education program at Highland Park gives students the opportunity for actual job training in both wholesale and retail businesses in our own community.

In addition to the on-the-job requirements, each D.E. student is also a member of DECA, Distributive Education Clubs of America, which met twice a month. This year's officers were Grant Wynn, president; Margot Cottingham, vice-president; Florence Creson, secretary; Jim Geron, treasurer; and Mike Thomas, reportive photographer.

Mrs. Sheree Davis, the club sponsor, counseled and assisted students in the job experiences and in the club projects. Among the year's projects were selling calendars, Scot fuzzies, long ribbons with the football schedule, spirit buttons, and bumper stickers, as well as stuffed animals. The money from these successful drives financed the annual Employer-Employee Banquet.

Cheerleaders build up spirit at pep rallies

All of the H.P. cheerleaders, Varsity, B-team and freshmen, worked hard this year trying to increase school spirit at various sporting events as well as at pep rallies.

The Varsity cheerleaders began their work at S.M.U. cheerleading camp in July. They won one blue ribbon as well as the spirit stick at the end of the week. Sponsors Cathy Morris and Mike Mastandrea helped the squad perfect their routines.

The addition of two more cheerleaders, increasing the squad to ten made a big improvement according to Mrs. Morris. She characterized this year's varsity cheerleaders as one of the most organized and best dressed squads she has seen.

The Varsity cheerleaders were Michelle Aldridge, Gigi Alexander, Becky Brooks, Caren Cain, Reagan Fairchild, Craig Bailey, David Glass, John Hall, Paul Haschke, and Brad Weir. These cheerleaders worked hard at practices twice a week and during club periods to prepare for pep rallies. Becky, Paul and Caren all added excitement to the rallies with their superb tumbling abilities.

Junior Varsity cheerleaders under the direction of Mrs. Judy Newell, included Frances Blackwell, Emily Christian, Kathy Hall, Meredith Glasscock, Lendy Leggett, and Laura Moerschell. They did well at cheerleading camp, winning several ribbons and they brought home the Spirit Stick. The girls painted many banners and organized decorating for B-team players.

The 1982 freshmen cheerleaders were Leslie Dickinson, Sally Durham, Carol Cochran, Stacy Jacobs, Michelle O'Rourke, Dyan Rosser, and Crozier Sowden. Their sponsor was Mrs. Lorna Griffin, who helped the cheerleaders in organizing the decorating of freshmen teams.

Club members camp and fish in east Texas

The Field and Stream club under the leadership of Mr. Jim Lee participated in several outdoor activities during the 1981-82 school year.

In October, the members of the club went on a camp out fishing trip to a lake in East Texas where they were successful in catching 400 fish.

The club also organized a skeet shoot and another camp out fishing trip for the spring. During club periods members viewed films on outdoor activity, safety, and survival in the wilderness.

Leading the 40 mostly male members were the officers: Rod Hargrave, president; John Vandermeer, vice-president; Susan Cortelyou, secretary; and Cathy Clements, treasurer.

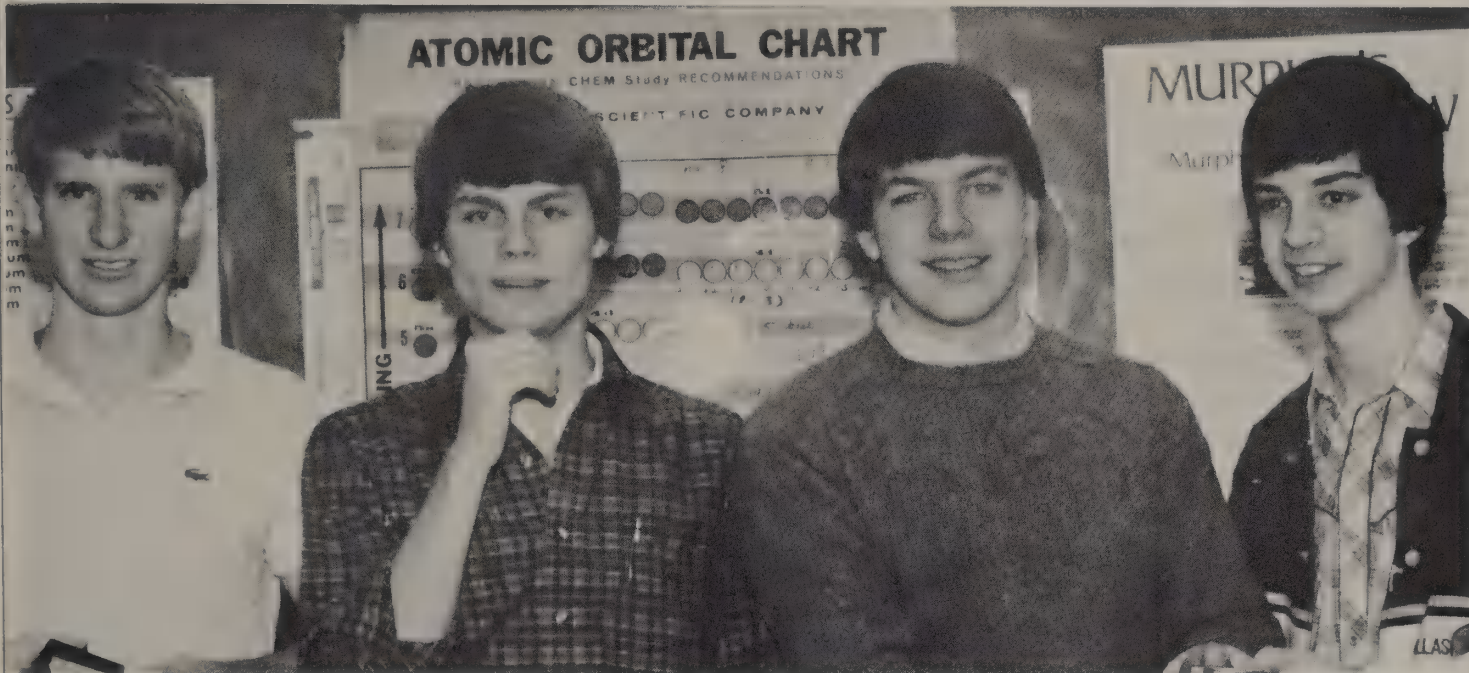

Mu Alpha Theta was led this year by Ken "Bone" Shouse, President; J. P. McCarter, Vice-President; J. L. Jud, Secretary; and J. Davis Hamlin, Treasurer.

Members of Mu Alpha Theta attended several math contests throughout the year. The year climaxed with the annual Math Club Picnic at GLO Park. Awards presented at the picnic included Parnell McCarter for the "Tiger" award, Ken Shouse for the Cardinal Reject Memorial, and Karl Rathjen for Test Pattern Creativity. Senior Jimmy Jud commented, "The club was really swell."

Guest players, mini-concerts entertain club

The Guitar Club, under the sponsorship of Dr. Larry Puckett, enjoyed a year of music during Wednesday club periods.

The club was made up of students interested in rock, classical, and jazz guitar playing. The meetings consisted of performances by visiting entertainers and club member mini-concerts.

The Records and Tapes Club, sponsored by Mr. Mike Atteberry, kept busy throughout the year by planning and participating in various activities.

In the fall, the club held the John Lancaster Memorial Softball Tournament and the John Marks Memorial Volleyball Tournament. The club also sponsored another softball tournament in the spring.

Records and Tapes had several speakers this year who discussed with the members trends in music and the music industry. They studied contemporary music in the interest club, while the board members organized activities and one fund-raising project. Board members were Dodge Carter, David Coleman, Brian Miller, Tolbert Marks, Jeff Walters, and Timmy Watson.

Spanish club enjoys variety of programs

Sponsored by Miss Karen Thomas and Ms. Eleonora Guzman, the Spanish Club enjoyed a wide variety of programs while increasing their knowledge.

Programs this year included a planetarium show in Spanish, guest speakers, films, and a special appearance by Dr. Lawrence Puckett and his Flamenco guitar playing. Outside of school the club held a Christmas skating party for orphans, the annual Spanish breakfast, and The Fourth Annual Guacamole Cook-off. The Club also revised its constitution this year.

The 20 member club was led by president Jill Davidson and the activities were organized by program chairman Kamie Salome.

Sailing Club plans trip to Florida Keys

The Sailing Club, with even more members than last year, had an exciting year with many various activities. The club was led by officers Blake Bernet, president; Susie Beilharz, vice-president; Cari Cheesborough, secretary; and Sari Candas, treasurer. At the first club meeting, members learned how to fold and rig sails, as actual boats were brought into the gym. Other activities at the bi-monthly meetings included seeing films and listening to guest speakers. The club members also paid a visit to the planetarium, where they learned how to navigate by the stars.

The Sailing Club planned two trips this year. In the spring, they made their annual trek to Lake Texoma where they used the sailboats of generous sponsors, Coach Johnson and Ms. Self. Over spring break, club members flew down to the Florida Keys for one week. They rented three boats and also had snorkel equipment. This growing club had an exciting and fun-filled year.

German club enjoys games, tapes, lectures

The German Club planned several events for the 1981-82 school year. Among them were an Octoberfest celebration at Saint Christopher's Church and the annual Christmas party.

The club met twice a month on Wednesdays. Club members were entertained by German board games, such as Monopoly and Scrabble. Various speakers, such as

Mr. John Hanscom, lectured about Germany. In addition, videotapes were a very informative activity.

Membership in the German Club was opened to all students who showed an interest in German culture. David Frase served as president of the club, while Maggie McLemore held the position of secretary-treasurer. The club was sponsored by Miss Evelyn Lehman.

SPQR plans fun programs, exciting year

Under the leadership of Latin teacher Mrs. Elaine Clark, SPQR had 28 members. Programs have been planned for the year and range from a study on Roman food to participation in a National Latin League convention. To become a member, a student must be enrolled in Latin or have previously studied the language.

Phillip Shipp was the president of this year's club. Mike Wallace and Missy Compton were the vice-president and secretary, respectively. Peter Shriver raised money for the club as treasurer while Adrienne Kidder and Gail Ward were the program co-chairmen.

The Latin club intended to rebuild this year and become closely affiliated with the National Latin League. Mrs. Clark's comment on the rebuilding of the club was simply, "Rome was not built in a day."

Officers: Peter Shriver, Adrienne Kidder, Gail Ward, Mike Wallace, Missy Compton, Phillip Shipp.

ROW 1: M. Compton, M. Wallace, P. Shriver, P. Shipp, G. Ward. ROW 2: L. Falb, D. Bradford, S. Slayton, Mrs. E. Clark, R. Weedfall, M. Boyle, S. Taylor. ROW 3: M. Harrison, C. Greenfield, C. Photographers help each other with techniques

Under dual sponsorship of Mr. Jerry Hill and Mrs. Lou Pontius, the Photography Club worked to improve their picture-taking skills.

The club took several field trips, one of which was to Old City Park, to take pictures. One program during the club period dealt with kinds of cameras; how they operate, and how each is used.

Another program, conducted by Mr. Hill, gave hints on taking holiday pictures of adults and children. Mr. Hill showed travel photos of his excursions at another meeting.

Club officers included: Ley Bell, president, Diana Stevens, secretary. The members held an inner-club contest, and also entered other photography contests.

FIRST ROW: Ms. Pontius, L. Bell, M. Malone, G. Olmsted, J. Kilpatrick, Mr. Hill. SECOND ROW: H. Lewis, D. Stevens, R. Trent, C. Lankford.

AV Club aims to obtain new film equipment

The AV Club, sponsored by Mr. Steve Wilkes, is in its second year at HP. It began with the idea that HPHS could obtain portable audiovisual equipment outside the budget if there was a service club to buy it.

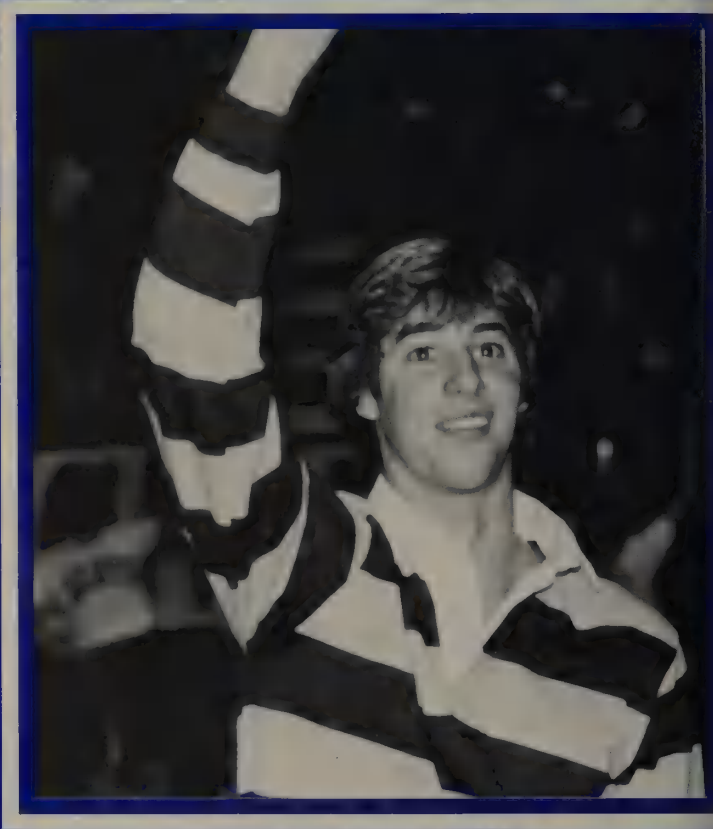

The goals of the club are to encourage student use of AV equipment with regard to classroom projects, to cultivate interest in audiovisual/television fields, to engage in before and after school filming, and to raise money to obtain portable equipment for on the spot shooting, in order to give a working knowledge of a wide variety of AV/TV equipment.

Officers of the AV Club included Trey Smith, president; Randy Pierce, vice president; Ken Shouse, treasurer; and David Little, secretary.

AV MEMBERS: T. Smith, R. Pierce, K. Shouse, D. Little, J. Stephens, M. Wilson, C. Stasney, R. Hargrave, M. Carney, M. Angel, M. Jewell, D. Bremner, L. Bell, G. Bailey, J. Bradley, B. Davis, D. Goldman, C. Hubbard, A. Kasnetz, B. Maxwell, M. Sizel, G. Turner, T. Wynne.

Remember us?: Freshmen girls are disgusted as they wait for their guys to stop watching the football game on tv and start paying attention to them.

The Freshman were led by their representatives Jeff Carter and Brant Wingert. During Howdy Week, Stewart Campbell and Stephanie Holmes served as Freshman Spies. At the annual Howdy Dance, Stephen White and Jenny Bernet were announced as favorites.

Freshman could be found over the summer from the beaches of Florida to the beaches of Hawaii, and everywhere in between. Matt Johnston, Wick Alexander, Polly Simpkins, Tiffany Allison, Beth Wilson, and several others spent a week at Jekyll Island, Georgia, with their church. Lee Roberts spent time at Sea Island. Many Freshmen traveled to Padre Island to soak up the rays while Ann Marie Cowdrey was riding in horse shows. Several others left the U.S. to enjoy the beaches of Cozumel and Cancun. Tie Sosnowski cruised the Bahamas while Kent Zocchi was in Europe.

C. D. Shamburger, Marci Welch, Brian Davis, Stephanie Schorlemer, and Kenn Harper worked for their fathers, while Beth Crossley and Jonathan Gilliam worked for Day's Hallmark and Victoria Station, respectively. While Michael Jackson was working at The Plaza of the Americas, Jim Dranguet was laboring at a horse ranch and Johnny Warren at the Dallas Country Club. Still others found mowing lawns and babysitting a good way to earn money.

Many Freshmen attended such summer camps as Waldemar, Kanakomo, Kanakuk, Mystic, Sky Ranch, and Longhorn. Others, including Leslie Dickinson, Melissa Carroll, and David Rose, attended tennis camps. Hill Collins traveled to Culver Military Academy to attend military camp.

H.P. sophomores
work for first time,
travel during summer

SOPHOMORES

Here goes: Sophs Kathy Murphy and Mary Gibbons take advantage of a breezy day by flying a kite at a nearby park.

The Sophomores of 1981-1982 had exciting summers filled with travel, jobs, and fun in the sun. Mike Lucas traveled to Germany to play basketball, Kelty Barber winged to Spain and Portugal, Michele Medlock went to Germany, Austria, and Switzerland, and Sheila Wallace was on the streets of Europe watching Prince Charles' and Lady Di's royal wedding. Others stayed a little closer to home on their vacations. Carter Latham, Todd Bright, and Laurie and Lisa Wyly spent some time in California. Robert McBee, Loren Leftwich, and Kevin Renner moved to cooler temperatures in Colorado. A bunch of sophs spent part of their summer at camp. These camp sites varied, as some went to New Mexico, Tennessee, Virginia, and Minnesota. The newly elected J.V. cheerleaders, Frances Blackwell, Emily Christian, Meredith Glasscock, Kathy Hall, Lendy Leggett, and Laura Moerschell, participated in cheerleading camp at S.M.U.

A few sophomores used their summer to earn money. Besides the standard of mowing yards, Abby Schonier worked in a dentist's office, Amy Taylor painted for Over the Rainbow, Laura Apeland was a lifeguard on the beach in Jacksonville, Florida, and Tass Waterston worked in a mission in Mainero, Mexico.

The H.P. student body elected Teri Rudolph and Fulton Murray to the Student Council as class reps. The Super Scot Spies during Howdy Week were Melinda Marshall and John Cain. Frances Blackwell and Gig Reeves were nominated friendliest. Sophomore Varsity Football players included Greg Aldridge, Rod Jones, Erik Mays, John Rutledge, and David Sweeney.

Class officers make plans for exciting, action-packed year

A routine day at the office: Jr. class officers Milledge Hart, Mary Sowell, Kayanne Sumner, and Elizabeth Murray plan the schedule for a great year.

The Junior Class, now rejoicing over the fact of finally being Upperclassmen, participated widely in school activities. Juniors were involved in spirit committee, varsity football, basketball, and other sports.

Representing the Junior Class in Student Council were Dee Dockery and Dave Reichert. The class officers worked selling hats and coupon books for Jr.-Sr. Prom. These officers were Milledge Hart, President; Mary Sowell, vice-president; Elizabeth Murray, secretary; and Kayanne Sumner, treasurer. In the fall at the annual Howdy Dance, Dave Reichert and Margaret Shelmire were chosen friendliest. Junior Super Scot Spies were Milledge Hart and Pam Bennett.

Over the summer Juniors worked, traveled, and played. Some traveled to Jekyll Island and many attended camp for the last time as a camper or for the first time as a counselor. Camp sites were Longhorn, Kanakuk, Mystic, and Waldamar. Dana Wertheimer went to camp in Maine. Kay Turner traveled to Europe, while Melissa Burford, Allyson Smith, and Milledge Hart flew to Hawaii. Erin Alexander, Ashley Gunter, and Elise Pettinger gained extra knowledge at Andover. Jon Andrus and Greg Allison won first and second places, respectively, at the Dallas Times Herald Golf Tournament. Julie Branch went to Canada and New York singing with her church choir. King Hall, Blair Oden, Jeff Fronterhouse, and Brant Bernet hunted wild boar in Africa and Libya. Tricia Bell and Kelly York worked at My Friends tea room, while Julie Branch worked at Sanger Harris. Laura Andrews, Elizabeth Thompson, Ken Brown, and Scott Shelton did volunteer work at Children's Medical Center.

Senior class of '82
has exciting year,
anticipates college

SENIORS

Senior Class Officers: Mary Huck, Kyle Ford, Shane Read, Gigi Alexander.

The 336 seniors of the class of 1982 spent much of this year preparing for their future plans. Senior counselor Mrs. Betty Guest's office stayed busy as students sought advice on college selections and applications.

Chosen as "Friendliest Seniors" at the opening of the year at the Howdy Dance were Michelle Aldridge and Brad Weir.

Seven seniors who scored in the top one-half percent in the nation on the PSAT-NMSQT were named National Merit Semi-Finalists, while there were sixteen seniors who received Letters of Commendation for scoring in the top five percent. Thirty-one new members were inducted into the National Honor Society in the fall.

The foreign exchange students this year were Naoya Mitake from Japan and Jeanne Verster from South Africa. Both students, sponsored by the American Field Service, enjoyed experiencing a year in America as Highland Park Scots.

Many seniors participated in varsity athletics, and Craig Kennington was named to the All-American Football Team of Parade magazine.

Senior class officers elected in February were Kyle Ford, president; Shane Read, vice-president; Gigi Alexander, secretary; and Mary Huck, treasurer.

The Senior class was definitely a talented one this year. The Senior Play this year was "The Importance of Being Earnest" with leads portrayed by Dina Jones, Jeff Blain, Sutton Stephens, and David Glass.

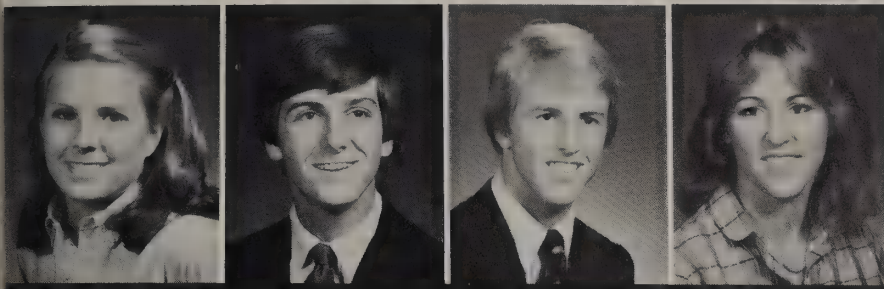

Senior leads in this year's musical, "The Boyfriend", included Mary Mills and Monte Smith. Three seniors qualified for U.I.L. All-State-Choir. They were Mary Mills, Soprano I, Karen Cummings, Soprano I, and Scot Sigler, Baritone. All in all the Senior class had a very productive year.

Several Seniors spent their summer traveling all over the United States.

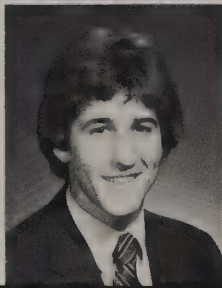

Resorts were popular with this year's seniors. Headed for Padre this summer were Cynthia Davis and Blair Gibbs. Meg Wilson went to Hilton Head while Caren Cain, Duke Clarke, Robert Allday, Day Dickinson, and Reagan Fairchild preferred Sea Island.

Many Seniors just plain traveled. Kathy Cheatum traveled up the West Coast while Marlen Smits headed for Kentucky. Donna Raley and Robert All-day ventured to Vail, and many others went to the ever popular Jekyll Island, Georgia.

Other Seniors chose camp; many for the last year. Seniors who went to Camp Longhorn included Donna Raley, Caren Cain, Blair Gibbs, John Cowden, Kyle Ford, and Christin Warren. Camp Nakanawa boasted Scot Seniors Mary Van Ellis, Ann Stansbury, Martha Adam, and Laura Howard.

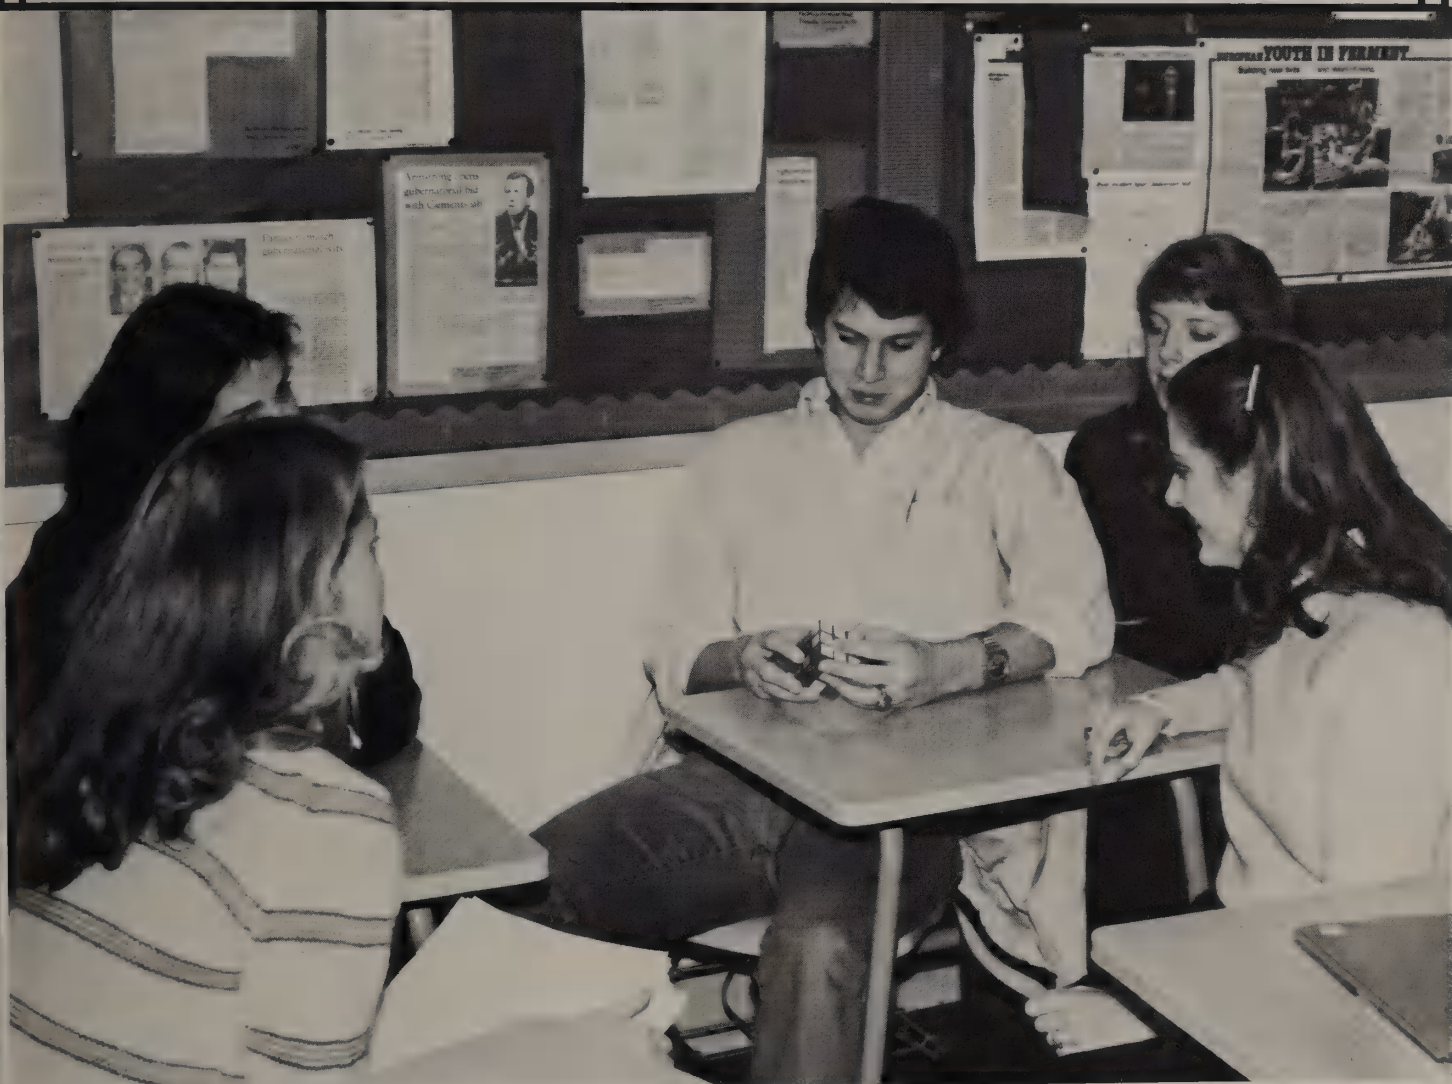

LESLIE EUGENE KELTON — Football 3, 4; FCA 3, 4; Musical Light Crew 3, 4; Track 4; Commodities Club 4.

"Children are the gifts of love, sent from God to make this old world new again.

Out of love they spring. Through love, they grow into love, until the day when they have children of their own. And the miraculous cycle of life begins anew."

Through love pain tears of sorrow memories of the past hopes and fears of tomorrow. Our little girls are grown from duckling to swan. After thirty-five years of daughters the last one is gone. Each one of them special in her own way. There in our hearts they will always stay. Thank heaven for cute little ribbons and curls, But most of all, thank heaven for our four little girls!

We're proud of our schools.

Some 4600 students are enrolled in Highland Park's schools. But these are no ordinary schools, or students. Consider:

- Standards are high — 26% of the 1981 seniors were honor graduates ("A" average).
- As a percentage of enrollment, HPHS consistently produces more National Merit Scholarship semi-finalists than any other high school in the Metroplex.
- Ninety-seven percent of all HPHS graduates enroll in college.
- More than 80% of the professional staff hold graduate degrees.
- Athletic excellence is part of the system's tradition. In the 1980-81 school year, HPHS teams finished first or second in district competition in eleven different sports.

The excellence of our schools speaks eloquently of our community, and its youth. And it is an excellence that gives real meaning to the often heard phrase, "Scot pride."

MANUFACTURERS REPRESENTATIVE
Dallas • Houston • San Antonio

LEADERSHIP

Part of being a leader is being able to withstand the arrows of price competition. A leader need not be the biggest or the oldest company in its field, but it's the one that stands out because it is the best. It wins price wars because its reputation for excellence in its field will not be obliterated by price-cutting.

A leader is also usually a living, and very healthy, testimonial to the effectiveness of an important market principle: 'That in the long run it profits you far more to sell your product on its value rather than on its price.'

Almost everyone will agree with that principle in theory; but many violate it in practice. It is often so easy to pick up quick sales by promoting 'special prices' or 'deals'. And it is so hard to resist the temptation to fight fire with fire when price-cutting competitors are apparently hurting you.

But when you get down and fight the 'cut-price' merchandiser on his home grounds, and by his rules, you place yourself in danger of losing much and gaining little. You identify your fine product with his and destroy, in the minds of customers, some of your product's distinctive value. You may gain short term sales, but you are apt to sacrifice the kind of customer respect which creates long-term growth.

Perhaps the main reason more manufacturers do not sell on value rather than on price is that selling on value is far more difficult than selling on price. It requires, of course, a product that has value. But that is only the beginning.

It also requires the marketing wisdom to know what specific 'character' you should create for your products to separate it most favorably from all others of its kind.

It requires something else, too: the lonely courage to stand out from the crowd, to sell on your own consistently, year in year out, regardless of the opportunistic tactics of competition. Perhaps this is the rarest quality of all. It sometime is called LEADERSHIP.

Congratulations,
Tommy

Glen and Garlen gratefully acknowledge the students, parents, faculty and administration of Highland Park Schools for their thoughtfulness and support this past year. We wish to thank you for the many visits to the hospital and our home, for the food, flowers, contributions to the memorial fund, and for so generously giving of yourselves in so many ways. We will be eternally grateful for your prayers, kindness and outpouring of love. It is our prayer that the Lord will bless you one hundred fold for the many blessings you have given us.

Finished at last!

The 1982 Highlander was printed by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. The type style used on the body copy, captions, and headlines was a new one, News Gothic. Other types used included Poster Bodoni on the divider pages, Times Roman, Helvetica Medium Outline, and Stymie Medium. Spot color in the opening section and on divider pages was 100% Super Blue and 100% Process Yellow.

Our biggest thanks go to our photographers, especially Todd Foster and Jeff Hamlin. We greatly appreciate their many long hours of work. We would also like to thank Phil Stephens of Park Cities People for providing us with so many of the great photographs used in the color and sports sections.

Bradley Photographers, Kincaid Photo Service, and Commercial Color Corporation also made great contributions to the Highlander. Our sponsor, Miss Katherine Carpenter, our business assistant, Miss Gladys Bradshaw, and our representative from Taylor Publishing Company, Mr. Acie Mitchell, helped us a great deal. Our thanks go to them.

Finally, we are grateful to our wonderful friends on the Highlander staff who worked so hard, and to our families, who put up with our long hours.

Leap for joy: Varsity cheerleader Gigi Alexander leads Scot cheers at a pep rally.

Guitar man: Dr. Puckett performs for students at Christmastime.

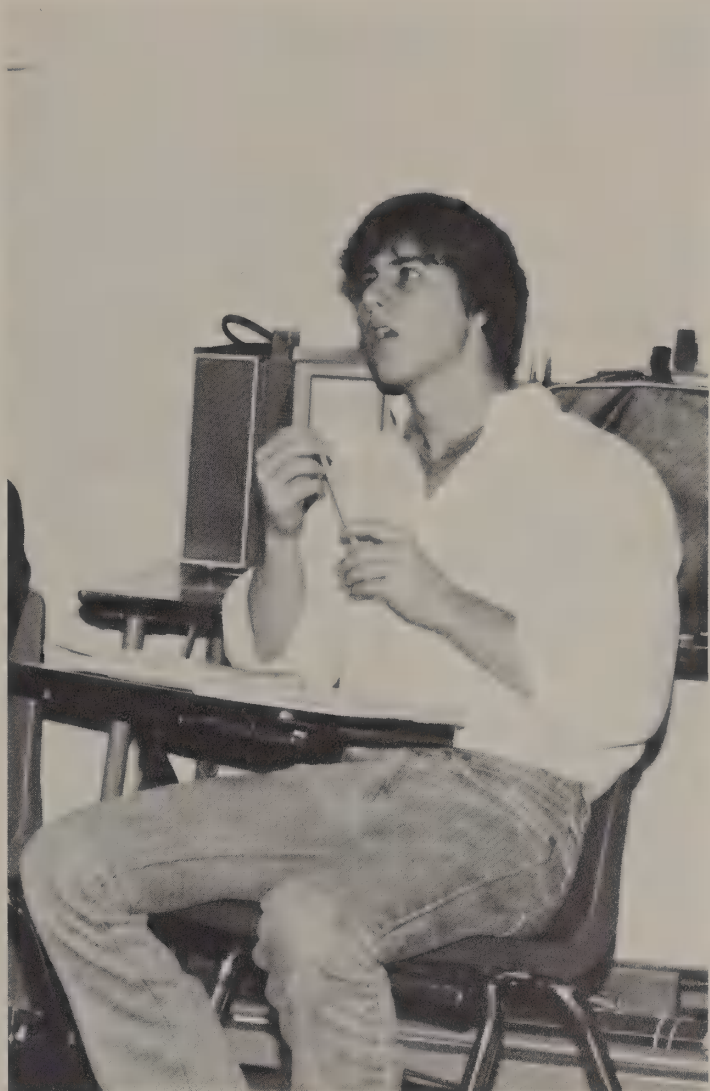

It's a Cinderella story: The gopher is about to be destroyed.

College scouts?: A group of H.P. guys look on as junior and senior girls go after it on the football field.

Tim Conway?: John Hall conducts an imaginary orchestra.

Senioritis sets in: Scott Sessions finds it hard to concentrate in class.

Don't let go! Brad Weir and Paul Haschke swing Becky Brooks and Gigi Alexander around on their shoulders.

Administrative changes occur at High Park

While Highland Park High School students looked forward to summer, world peace was threatened when Argentina occupied the British controlled Falkland Islands. It was predicted to be a short war, but heavy damage to both sides destroyed all hopes of a rapid settlement.

Further endangering international peace was the conflict between Israel and the P.L.O. in Southern Lebanon.

Highland Park hit the headlines again with the commencement of the John Hinckley trial.

This spring also brought many changes inside of Highland Park High.

There was an amendment passed in April providing for the election of new varsity cheerleaders in the Fall of the Junior year. Mixed reactions followed the passage of this amendment. Other changes were made in the school's administration. While Mr. Roberts retired, Mr. O'Quinn accepted the place of Mr. Lawrence as assistant principal. Mr. Lawrence will be the new principal of Hyer Elementary School. Dr. Sigler was promoted to Assistant Superintendent of Highland Park Independent School District. Mr. Munroe, former principal at Hyer, will take Dr. Sigler's place as principal at the High School next year.

Congrats: Jonathon Ladd presents Dr. Sigler with a gold "H" for his services.

You can't beat that: J. Hall, S. O'Connell, and C. Bailey entertain between acts.

Smile: B. Boggs, C. Bobbitt, M. Rush, K. Schooler, and T. Bell are ready for state.

Champ: Junior Wendy Irwin proudly displays the medal she won in Austin.

THE BOYFRIEND

Enthusiasm, flashy costumes, and talent, both new and old, coalesced to create an invigorating and strikingly professional atmosphere about the 1982 Spring musical "The Boyfriend," produced by Mr. Don Waugh.

Heading up the cast were Mary Mills as Polly, Josh Larson as Tony, Stephanie Jackson as Maisie, and Monte Smith as Bobby. Other principals included Amy Duncan, Karen Cummings, John Christian, Liz Larson, Scott Jordan, Sylvia De La Torre, Dina Jones, Robbie McClung, Lisa Hosford, Scot Sigler, Dee Dockery, and John McDaniel. An illustrious group of melodious singers and nimble dancers rounded up the group. And a sharp well-rehearsed orchestra, under the guidance of new directors, Mr. Weldon Wendland and Mrs. Roxelyn Ethridge, provided an extra special touch of class.

"The Boyfriend" is set in a girls' finishing school in France during the Roaring Twenties — a time when love and parties were the things that most occupied people's minds. Accordingly, In "The Boyfriend," mistaken identities, broken hearts, and the antics of vivacious bachelors end in umpteen marriages amid much frolicking.

The musical was presented during the first few days of April to enthusiastic audiences who enjoyed not only the singing, dancing, and humorous dialogue, but also a few surprises. An excited and closely knit cast reveled in four straight days of wild, but much deserved, cast parties.

Singing sweetly: John Christian and Karen Cummings sing of an old love.

Come on honey: Scott Jordan escorts the reluctant Liz Larson.

Quit complaining: Sylvia De La Torre does not think anything is likeable.

Just think of it: Scott Jordan gives a little friendly advice to John Christian.

Wheee!: Stephanie Jackson, Scot Sigler, Dina Jones and Monte Smith enjoy a day by the pool.

March brings competition in spring sports

March was a time of accomplishment in the areas of sports, drama, honors, and games. However, Spring Fever was in the minds of many H.P. students.

Honoring all the Spring athletes, the last pep rally of the year was held. The captains of these sports recognized and encouraged their teammates. They spoke of their victories and of the hopes of achieving their future goals.

Another event during March was the volleyball game between the girls' FCA and the Leo Club. Selected members of each club were chosen to participate in the game.

In Tyler, the H.P. dramatists, competing in the UIL One-Act Play contest, won area and region performing "The Marriage Proposal." Around H.P., March was a fun-filled and rewarding month.

Kyle Ford . . . enough said!
Tennis anyone? Captains Leigh Bywaters and Shane Reed talk of their season.

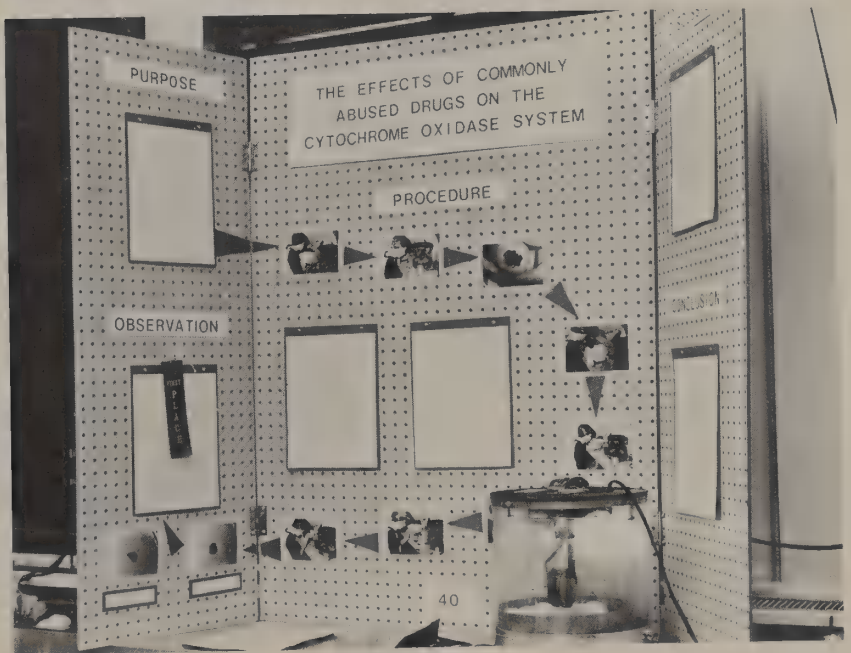

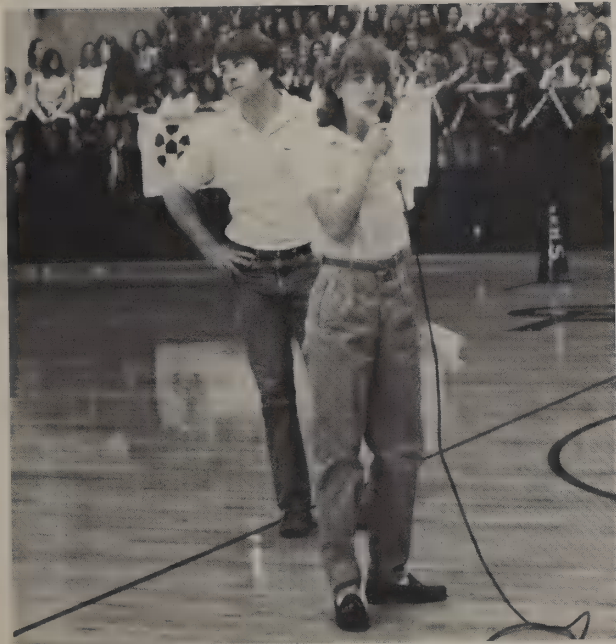

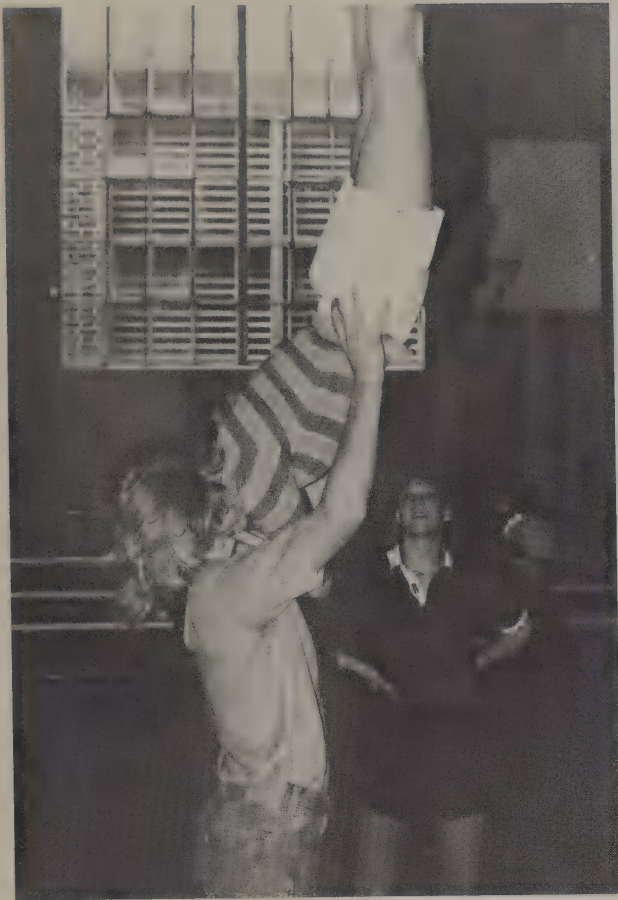

Wondering what they're thinking . . . Joe Guffey and Timmy Watson dream of Spring Break.

It's showtime: bottom: D. Glass, C. Adams, J. Blaine. top: S. Beilharz, C. Turner, E. Thomas show their prizes.

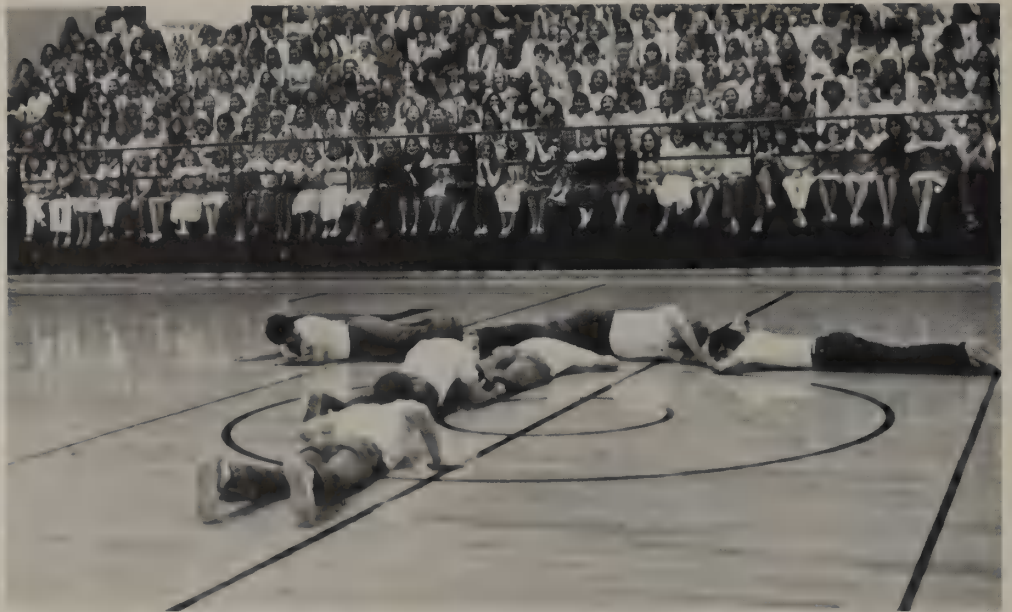

Strongman: Heavyweight champion J. Boughton lifts P. Bennett.
Man's best friend? Jeff Moss plays with his pet.
Me speak? Golf captain Tricia Bell is awed by the crowd.
Who's going to hit it first: Dan Strother and T.D. Briggs battle for the ball while teammates look on.
Awesome! H.P. student wins first place in science project.

Students pick leaders, vote on proposals

Concentrate: With a little help Kelley Hill does a double stunt during cheerleader tryouts.

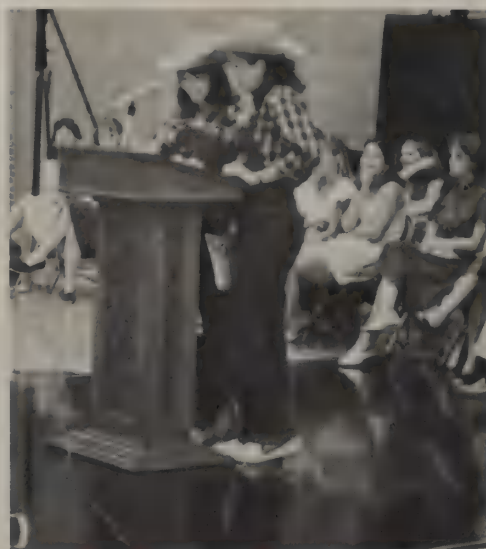

Give me a T: Candidates for Varsity Cheerleaders show off their stuff during elections.

No Way: J. New and K. Lynch can't wait to be associate editors for the 1983 Highlander.

Reach: Milledge Hart decorates for the prom.

Howdy: D. Luby and S. Cortelyou campaign.

All Right! Lloyd Denman is chosen Sr. Rep.

Top priority went to the Student Council and cheerleader elections during the month of April. Phillip Worthen will preside over the 1982-1983 Student Council with the help of Secretary Kim Newsome and Treasurer Dana Wertheimer. Sharing the responsibilities of the Executive Committee will be Dave Reichert as Vice-President and Kathleen White as Parliamentarian. Senior Representatives are Lloyd Denman, Colleen Doherty, and Ashley Gunter. Susan Martin and Terri Rudolf will be the Junior Reps, and Sophomores George Seay and Brandon Williams will represent their class.

Libby Bernet, Margaret Shelmire, Mary Sowell, Margaret Thompson, Elizabeth Thompson, John Boughton, Gill Giddens, John Griffiths, Mike Snyder, and Rick Walker were elected by the student body to lead the school spirit. The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders are Jenny Bernet, Tina Bernet, Anna Hampton, Leslie McElroy, Lee Roberts and Tiffany Slayton.

Co-Editors, Bruce Bradley and Kyle Krebs, will head the '82-'83 Bagpipe, with the help of Co-Business Managers, Carolyn Brown, Cathy Clements. Tricia Bell and Jennifer Simmons will supervise the publication of the Highlander, while Co-Business Managers, Catherine Hoover and Mary Margaret Lynch work on the ads. Associate Co-Editors of the annual will be Katherine Lynch and Jennifer New.

The Bagpipe needs me: C. Clements tries to win votes.

Nervous: P. Worthen gives a presidential speech.

Me?: T. Slayton is stunned she won.

Polo Anyone?: L. Bywaters and A. Gunter give a speech.

Go Scots: Junior hopefuls build up spirit at cheerleader tryouts.

Let's Groove! Srs. shake their booties at the Sr. Talent Show.

Mass Confusion: Students wait anxiously to get their HIGHLANDER.
Having Fun: Florence Creson seems to enjoy giving blood.

Highland Park entertainment increases in month of May

May started out with a big "bang". Student were kept busy with parties and exams. The student body elected Dave Reichert and Kathleen White Vice-President and Parliamentarian of the Student Council, respectively.

New Hi-Lite officers were announced at the Junkfood Jamboree. Serving as the president is Lisa Reed. Cindy Kennedy will assist her as vice-president. Other officers include Julie Branch, Kathy Carpenter, Gretchen Cowden, Kaysie Graham, Debbie McCullough, Elizabeth Murray, Elizabeth New, Shelly Spies, Allyson Smith, and Diana Woods.

At Honors Day, Parnell McCarter was named valedictorian. Jimmy Jud claimed the honor of salutarian. Also, Margie Rush and Jonathan Ladd were named winners of the distinguished Blanket Award. As May came to a close, the seniors bade farewell to HPHS, while the other classes anticipated a break from school.

Animal House: Diana Woods tries out for Hi-Lites and enjoys a Toga Party.

Boy It's Beautiful!: H.P. Girls check out the 1981-1982 HIGHLANDER.

Fame: Susan Williams accompanies Karen Cummings as she sings in front of the school.

BASEBALL

Ball players fall short of banner year

Baseballers of 1982 returned with high hopes of repeating their bi-district playoff berth of last year, but a couple of heartbreaking defeats in district play stifled a Scot title.

Pre-Season play for Highland Park began on a high note, chalking up a couple of shutouts and errorless affairs. The Scots then cooled off, and ended with a respectable 10 and 7 record going into district play.

The first half of district proved to be a turning point to the worse. Extra-inning losses to Mesquite and North Garland lowered team morale. Coach Al Hawes commented that "our season was these two game, the losses deflated our spirits."

The second half of district was less successful in overall record, but defeat of rival Mesquite was a major accomplishment.

Experience and leadership came primarily from the strong Senior class. Outstanding Senior players included Scott Sessions, Val Joe Walker, and Dodge Carter. Also with good performances were Juniors Ward Wilson and Bart Showalter.

Due to a few critical losses, Scot baseballers fell short of another banner year. The team of 1983, full of returning lettermen, should emerge as contenders to regain this lost crown.

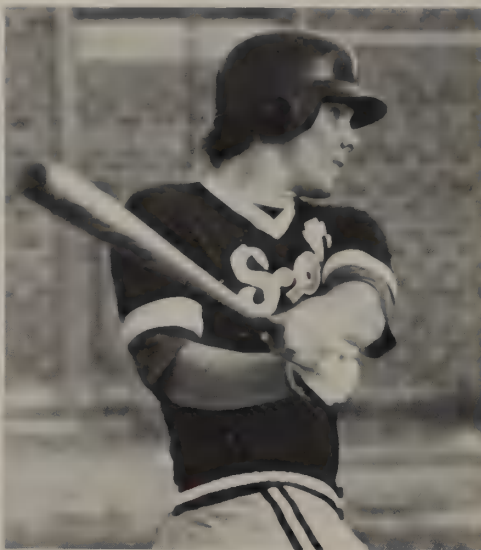

He's Out! V.J. Walker strikes out his opponent.

It's a hit: K. Ford bats the ball out of sight.

Anticipation: Freshmen boys await their turn.

Slugger: W. Wilson watches his ball fly.

Go For It: Ben Lange charges for first base.

HP runners, gymnasts do well in season

The Great White Hope conquered many obstacles in achieving third place in district this year. The team, led by captains Gary Turner and Duncan Bremner, was coached by Coach Holmes and Coach Bohac. Other prominent contributors were Mike Blase, Adam Cox, Monte Snyder, Mike Snyder, and Bryan Miller, Parnell McCarter, and James Faulk. Captains for next year's team will be Duncan Bremner and Trez Patrick.

For the second year in a row, the H.P. Girls' Track team swept to victory and took District by a storm. Junior Wendy Irwin led the Scots, finishing a remarkable second in State in the mile. Other important members who advanced to Regionals were Eugenia Skidmore, Katie Hutchinson, Liz Delany, Carrie Gil, Libby Lumpkin, Stephanie Miller, Kathy Lumpkin, Mary Van Ellis, and Kely Barber.

The men gymnasts had their most exciting year in their five-year history. After taking second in District, the team advanced to State, which was held in Ft. Worth. The boys led by captains Paul Haschke and John Micheal Adams, finished fourth in State. Coach Mark Sherman was highly pleased with the performances.

The lady gymnasts placed second in District this year. The girls are very young and look to have an exciting year next year. Team members include Francie Stevens and Julie Dolan, Anna Hampton, Beth Eldridge, and Diana Stevens.

H.P. Varsity Girls' Golf takes fifth in state

Headed by Coach Kyle, the 1981-1982 Tennis Team took district in both the boys and girls division. The girls finished first in their metro league, while the boys placed second.

The team advanced to the regional tournament placing second behind Wichita Falls High School. They placed in the top four and this advanced them to the state tournament. In the state tournament in late October, the team finished thirteenth behind first place Abilene Cooper High School. Placing second for the netters was Shane Reed.

Placing first in regionals were Shane Reed, Michael Carne, and John Taylor. Second place awards went to Duff Smith and Clay Christopher. Lyle Sabo was honored All-District Honorable Mention. Erin Alexander and Leigh Bywaters placed second in doubles. The doubles teams of Sabo and Taylor placed third, as Smith and Christopher placed fourth.

Named to the All-Metro team were Shane Reed, Lyle Sabo, and Dorothy Elliott received honorable mention.

Under the leadership of Coach Coy Williams, the Varsity girls' golf team placed first in district and the Junior Varsity placed second. Both teams advanced to the Regionals tournament in Denton at T.W.U. golf course. The first day, the Varsity golfers led by three strokes. The second day the pressure was on and the competition was stiff. The girls came through however, taking the regional title by a mere stroke over Paschal. The varsity team, consisting of Katherine Schooler, Margie Rush, Tricia Bell, Blakney Boggs, and Courtney Bobbitt, then advanced to compete in the state tournament at the Jimmy Clay course in Austin. Coach Williams, Coach Everett, and Coach Ellis accompanied the girls. After the first day, the gals were sitting in seventh place (out of eight possible places). The second day, however, the ladies charged and finished in fifth place.

This young team, only six years in existence had an outstanding year, finishing fifth in the state of Texas.

In the spring the men golfers had a difficult time. At district, the Varsity team came in fourth, while the Junior Varsity placed third. The guys needed either a first or second place finish to advance to regionals in Denton. After their play this year, the boys and Coach Williams expect a much better year next year. The team is only losing one Varsity player, Paul Mitchell. However, Coach plans on having a huge set of boys trying out next year, plus the men already on the team.

My Girls: Coach Williams takes his girls out to celebrate after the state tournament.

H.P. Pros: The Boys Varsity Tennis Team is glad the season is over.

GOLF

H.P. Swimmers splash through regionals meet

Super Scott Swimmers enjoyed a winning season. The girls finished 6th in state. Coach Sorrells took two boys to state; Mike Heath and Karl Rathjen. Mike won all of his events and qualified for All-American. Karl placed eleventh in the 500 Free.

The girls did very well in Regionals, sending five girls to state. Page Gunter, Katie Carson, Paige Wilbur, and Kim Carson won the Medley Relay and advanced to state. Paige Wilbur, a freshmen, also advanced in the 500 Free and 100 Fly. Katie Carson swam in the 500 Free also. Girls not going to state but who made great showings in regionals were: Jennifer Price, Julie Coxe, Susan Clarke, and Nancy Schoeller. Susan Clarke came back from a bout with tendinitis and finalled also in the 200im.

Both the boys' and girls' swim teams are expected to be strong next year under Coach Sorrells.

SWIMMING

Did I make it? Girl swimmer checks her time.
Hi, Mom: Richard Scoggins swims to victory.
Stretch!: Scott Reynolds is quick on the start.
Go!: Leigh Lankford urges on her teammate.

Soccer stars battle in district for great finish

Both the Girls' and Boys' soccer teams had successful seasons with the girls finishing second and the boys third in district.

The Girls' strongest opposition came from rival, North Mesquite, who beat H.P. 3-2 at district. Although the girls are losing the valuable Mary Huck and Laura Howard, they will have a strong team led by Amy Sexton, Frances Blackwell, and Sharon Bradley.

The Boys' rivalry was South Garland, a team that beat H.P. all three times they played. Leading the Boy's team in their winning season were newcomer James Faulk, who was the high scorer, and the awesome Dwight Coffee from Brazil. Other leaders were Tim Hook, the number one assist man, Mickey McGuire, who has been asked to play pro soccer in Europe, and John Patterson, an outstanding goalkeeper.

It's mine: Laura Howard battles to get possession of the ball.

Boot it! H.P. Scorer moves the ball down the field.

Move it! Senior Lang Aston is very determined to keep control of the ball.

Many students play, participate in intramurals

Less athletic types and specialized athletes broadened their horizons in 1982 by participating in intramurals. The center of attention for the spring was the highly competitive intramural basketball tournament. In this classic intra-school rivalry, two divisions were created: the freshman/sophomore division and the junior/senior division. Pseudo-athletes Chris Bragg, Alton Gaston, Francois Cardinal, Mike Bayer, Keith Berengeur, Scott Thomas, and Tommy Carter captured the underclassmen title. Among the upperclassmen, Tommy McElroy, Rob Clements, T.D. Briggs, Mike Bass, Tim Watson, Cole Ramey, Bob Berry, and Tommy Hughston earned the championship.

Models? T. McElroy, R. Clements, T.D. Briggs, M. Bass, T. Watson, C. Ramey, B. Berry, and T. Hughston pose for the champion photograph.

INTRAMURALS

This is serious business: The younger division basketball winners illustrate their will to win. Watch the birdie: Caroline Waggoner, Kaarie Molsen and Carla Beard pose for a victory picture.

Congrats! Jimmy Jud and Parnell McCarter take top honors.

Big Honor: Jonathon Ladd receives the coveted Blanket Award.
